Offer Changes in LBJ's Rail Dispute Proposal

BY DAVID R. JONES

WASHINGTON — Members of two congressional committees yesterday suggested changing the approach President Johnson has proposed for resolving the rail labor dispute.

Several members of a Senate Labor Subcommittee and the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee stressed varied approaches to the problem, ranging from industry seizure to permitting a strike, that would put added pressure on the carriers to settle the contract dispute with six shop craft unions.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz argued for the President's bill before the Senate subcommittee. Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd did the same before the House committee, where he ran into an assault from Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., committee chairman.

The bill would prevent any shutdown for 90 days while a presidential board tried to mediate a settlement. If that failed the panel would impose settlement terms and block a shutdown for up to two years from last January 1.

Organized labor strongly opposes the bill, saying it is a compulsory arbitration measure that would impose binding terms on workers without placing any burden on management. The labor movement is urging Congress to seize the industry, asserting that would prompt the carriers to settle without legislation.

Wirtz, apparently convinced that seizure would be unfair to the carriers and not help produce an agreement, argued that this would be "blackmail." But several congressmen, indicating that they thought the bill would put too heavy a burden on the unions, suggested proposals.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, D-N.Y., introduced an amendment that would permit the President to order limited seizure if no accord was reached and operate the carriers through a court receivership.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Texas, chairman of the panel said after the hearing he favored modifying the bill to impose a heavier burden on the carriers.

Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., suggested imposing fiscal controls on the carriers. Sen. Edward F. Kennedy, D-Mass., also spoke favorably of seizure.

Senator Wayne Morse, D-Ore., spoke for more than 40 minutes in favor of the bill, calling it a "compromise procedure."

Members of the House committee noted that the unions had offered to exempt essential shipments from any strike and suggested that a shutdown might thus be tolerated.

Boyd argued that it would be "a mare's nest" to figure out that goods were vital enough to be kept moving during a strike. He said a nationwide strike "would affect virtually every segment of the American economy and cause immeasurable hardship for most Americans."

Staggers, who first suggested Tuesday that Congress might tolerate a strike if essential goods were kept moving, assailed Boyd for releasing a rebuttal letter publicly Tuesday night before he appeared before the committee yesterday.

Congress need not act until June 19, when a 47-day contract extension runs out, Staggers said the House committee hearings would last at least two more weeks. Senate committee sources said that hearings probably would end next week, but that Senate action might not come until several days later.

Vote 'Yes' May 16

(Questions and answers on state Constitutional Reform Questions as prepared by the League of Women Voters.)

1. "I see the Warren County Republicans and the Warren County Democrats both came out for a "Yes" vote on all nine ballot questions above the candidates' names at the May 16 election. How come?"

"Because this is not a partisan issue. Republicans and Democrats agree that Pennsylvania badly needs reform for its old constitution. They want their voters to turn down all nine "Yes" levers on the machine for a more economical state government. This is our constitution and whether we realize it or not, it touches us often in our everyday lives, from the education of our children to the almighty tax dollar."

2. "If the constitutional convention question on the ballot goes through "Yes" votes and we elect the delegates next fall, how can these 163 men and women get the work done in just December to March?"

"Remember two things. First, this is a limited convention. They will make suggestions only on four things: the Judiciary, State Finance, Local Government, and Legislative Apportionment. We vote on their recommendations one by one a year from now."

"Second, we do not come into this cold. Much of the groundwork has already been laid. There have been several citizen groups appointed by the governors since 1957 and they have each studied proposals to reform the 1874 document."

3. "The delegates meet from next Dec. 1 and Feb. 29?"
"Yes, and there is strong evidence that limiting a convention to only three months gets the job done. In 1947 a convention revised New Jersey's constitution in three months and it is generally considered to be a very good one. One of the best is Alaska's which was written in 75 days. But Rhode Island set no time limit on their convention and it is into its second year! The Michigan convention met from October to May and resulted in a much improved basic law. A horrible example of how a convention can drag on and not produce a good document is Missouri. For nearly two years this went on, produced a few minor agreements and most of these were rejected in 1943 by the voters."

Warren General Hospital Your Hospital — City of Care

Your Hospital is a Library — but not similar to a public library. Its volumes of books and journals are dedicated to medical science, nursing, and hospital administration, which enables a program of continuing education to be maintained by the individuals concerned with the community's health. A librarian maintains the 350-400 volumes, and an average of 12-15 new volumes are added annually. (National Hospital Week — May 7-13)

McCool Answers Charges In Property Issue

Earlier this week three individuals filed two complaints in mandamus against Jack E. McCool, Warren County treasurer and currently a candidate for the Republican nomination for register and recorder.

The complaints served on McCool Tuesday are acts of legal procedure which compel an officer to perform a duty that he is required to do.

According to the plaintiffs—Roy Sherman, a county employee, John H. Stewart, local attorney, James V. Mazzu Jr., the former two acting as one party—they had purchased two tracts of land in Elk Township at a treasurer's sale in August of 1964.

The land, it is alleged, was sold under the title of unknown ownership and a period of two years was allowed under the law for any owners of the properties to redeem them. The plaintiff claim the deadline for such redemption was August 3 of last year.

The complaint states that on August 2 of last year McCool accepted, as county treasurer, funds from himself as an individual to effect the redemption of the properties.

The plaintiffs state he was not the owner or a party qualified to effect the redemption and according to their papers filed, there are no records filed in the office to show that any other party (during the two-year waiting time) attempted to redeem the property.

The plaintiffs further state they asked McCool to void the records pertinent to his redemption, which according to the mandamus complaint, he refused to do.

Paragraph 10 of the complaint states that "by an arbitrary exercise of authority in his official capacity as county treasurer, the said Jack E. McCool acted in favor of Jack E. McCool as an individual in said acts of accepting redemption money and marking official records as 'redeemed' to tracts of land through a mistaken view of the law or otherwise."

The court is petitioned to request the defendant to void the records pertinent to the redemption of the land.

The following is a "letter to the editor" from McCool stating his views in the issue.

May 10, 1967

Warren Times Mirror & Observer
Warren, Penna.

To the Editor:

"It seems that there are many interested citizens, who are still not too certain about the details covering the action commenced against me yesterday, concerning the refund of redemption money and the delivery of Tax Sale Deeds on two pieces of land in Elk Township.

"I have been advised by counsel and several governmental agencies that I own and have good title to this land, by way of conveyances and deeds, all of which are of record. This is not a case of my purchasing any interest in these properties at any tax or Sheriff's Sale. The redemptions that were made by me, as an individual on August 2nd and 5th, 1966 (over nine months ago) were done in accordance with the law; and it is the same procedure that I follow when anyone else, who has a claim or title to property, that has been sold at Treasurer's sale, wants to protect his interest.

"The only difference here is that I am a public official, and that certain persons are trying to take advantage of this by coercing me into giving them an interest in this land, which I am told I own; namely, John H. Stewart, attorney, Roy E. Sherman, an appointed employee, in charge of the map office in the Court House, and James Mazzu Jr. of James Jewelers.

"Again, this is not a case of any of my interest in this land being acquired by me at any Tax Sale. My ownership of the land in question, was through direct purchase from the owners of record, for a just and fair consideration, paid by me as an individual. Isn't it obvious that I would have gone through a "Straw Party" or taken an indirect means of asserting my interest and title to those properties, if I hadn't been keeping everything above board."

"As I have previously stated. It is quite obvious that I was being coerced, and tried to be "bought off," because of my position as a public official. Don't we all have Constitutional Rights? I intend to protect these rights with the same effort that I have used in doing this for other individuals and groups who request or need the service of this office. I own the property, and I intend to protect my interest therein. I AM DOING, WHAT I HOPE, ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL WOULD DO. "In closing, I would like to remind the readers that: one does not have to be learned in the law to know that there is no such thing as an "Unknown Assessment." If anyone who is familiar with the records, will search them thoroughly enough, he will eventually find an owner, even if it's William Penn."

Very truly yours,
Jack E. McCool, County Treasurer
Republican Candidate for Register and Recorder

$2,000 Damage In 3-Way Crash

A crash yesterday afternoon involving three vehicles resulted in an estimated $2,000 damage along Route 27, a mile east of Grand Valley.

According to state trooper William C. Dudinack of Warren substation, a highway truck being driven by Robert E. Wencil, 30, of Grand Valley, was attempting to make a left turn when it struck the rear of a car operated by Melvin W. Buchanan, 37, of Oil City.

The Buchanan auto then slammed into a telephone pole and the parked car of Harry Hicks of RD 2, Titusville.

Damage to the Buchanan auto was estimated at $1,800 while the Hicks car had $200 damage. The truck was not marred.

Red China May Be Caught Up in New Revolution

TOKYO (AP) — Reports quoting Peking wall newspapers indicated yesterday that Red China was caught up in a new wave of blood-spattered revolutionary confusion involving hundreds of thousands of supporters and opponents of the Communist party chairman, Mao Tse-tung.

Bloody fighting has been reported raging for a period of weeks in such key areas as the provinces of Szechwan, Honan, Shantung and Sinkiang, the latter the site of China's nuclear installations, and in several major cities including Peking itself.

Reports from the wall posters put up by Red Guards — sometimes inaccurate but often on the orders of the Communist party Central Committee — suggested that the forces of Mao and his heir-apparent, Vice Chairman Lin Biao, are trying desperately to crush those supporting President Liu Shao-chi and the party general secretary, Teng Hsiao-ping, but that the resistance remains stubborn. The reports were relayed by Japanese correspondents based in Peking.

In province after province, the reports indicated a critical situation. In Szechwan, center of the important and often turbulent Southwest China Administrative District, the Peking posters said more than 10,000 persons were killed or wounded in fighting over the past four weeks and that hundreds of thousands of peasants had been fighting forces loyal to Mao.

The Jamestown Kiwanis Club and the area chamber of commerce are co-sponsors of the luncheon scheduled to get underway at noon.

Governor Rockefeller is expected to speak on the proposed $2.5 billion transportation bond issue to be voted on in the general election this fall. Should the bond issue be approved the schedule for the construction of the Route 17 expressway through Chautauque County could be greatly accelerated according to the governor's office.

The bond issue which has been endorsed by the Route 17 Association and by the Jamestown Area Chamber of Commerce is the key to complete contract letting of all unfinished expressway sections by 1970.

While in Jamestown the governor is expected to confer with municipal airport chairman Samuel Alessi on possible financial assistance from the state for the proposed capital construction project at Jamestown Municipal Airport.

Court Rules Against N.Y. Districts

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — A three-judge federal court ruled unanimously yesterday that the state legislature's 1961 reapportionment of congressional districts in New York violated the United States constitution.

It said the law, with its "seemingly bizarre structure of the present congressional districts," should be scrapped and a new one drawn by the legislature, which convenes next January. The new reapportionment would apply to the November, 1968, congressional elections.

In finding the statute unconstitutional, the court held that it violated the one-man, one-vote rulings of the supreme court, which says that state legislative and congressional districts must as nearly as is practicable be equal in population.

The judges yesterday cited the difference in population between the 12th Congressional District and the adjoining 15th District, both in Brooklyn. The first, the largest in the state, has a population of 471,001, and the second of 350,635.

Noting that a state average reached by dividing the total population by the number of its representatives would be 409,324 a district, it said the 12th was 15.1 per cent above the average and the 15th was 14.4 per cent below. This, it added, meant "a spread between these two contiguous districts of 29.5 per cent."

The ruling was in a suit brought by the liberal party and David I. Wells, assistant political director of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, Wells is an authority on reapportionment.

State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, whose office had defended the plan, said he would decide on the question of appealing the decision to the Supreme Court after he had studied it.

A spokesman for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has the power to call a special session of the legislature, said he would have no comment on this possibility or the political implications of the decision until he had an opportunity to study it.

Shore Hotel Destroyed By Flames

LILY DALE, N.Y. — The Shore Hotel on Lily Dale rd., was destroyed by fire Tuesday which broke out shortly before midnight and leveled the three-story frame building.

The hotel had 20 guest rooms which were unoccupied. No estimate of loss was reported. A bar-restaurant is operated the year around at the hotel but is closed on Mondays and no one was in the structure when the fire started.

Cause of the fire which was battled by volunteers from Lily Dale, Stockton, Fredonia and Cassadaga has not been determined.

The hotel is operated during the Lily Dale Assembly season by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Balder who own the property.

Rural Scouting Director To Speak Here Tonight

Charles S. Griffin, assistant national director of Rural Scouting will take part in the Scouting Roundtable, at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church.

All Scouters are invited to participate in this program that will include Cub and Boy Scout Roundtables and an Explorer Cabinet meeting.

David Titus of the Pennsylvania Game Commission will be on hand to work with Boy Scout Leaders in their program.

Griffin was born in Mercer County, Missouri, where he attended a rural elementary school. He is a graduate of the Leon, Iowa high school and of Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa. He did graduate work both at Iowa State College and at Western Michigan Teachers College, Kalamazoo, Mich. He completed the National Training School for professional leaders in Scouting at Mendham, N.Y. in 1937.

He taught in high school at Muskegon Heights, Mich. where he was an assistant Scoutmaster and Scoutmaster of a troop for eight and a half years. He also served as neighborhood commissioner before entering Scouting professionally.

Griffin was active in youth activities. In his senior year at college as president of the nine-state regional council of the student YMCA, he attended and helped plan many student conferences throughout the mid-west.

Griffin took up his first professional Post Feb. 1, 1938 as a field Scout executive in the Fruit Belt Area Council, with headquarters at Kalamazoo, Mich. In 1941 he became Scout executive of the Wabash Valley Council at Terre Haute, Ind. He held this post until 1953, when he joined the National staff of Boy Scouts of America in his present position.

Relations With Egypt At New Low

By GAVEN HUDGINS
CAIRO (AP) — U.S.-Egyptian relations stand at their lowest ebb since President Gamal Abdel Nasser told the United States in 1964 to "Drink the Red Sea"—Arabic equivalent of "Go jump in the lake."

Nasser's injunction followed the burning of the John F. Kennedy Library in Cairo and the shooting down of a private American plane by Egyptian jets.

No such specific incidents underlie the current tensions. They are based more on fundamental differences between the Nasser regime and U.S. policy in the Middle East.

These have been aggravated by Nasser's smoldering anger over U.S. refusal to grant Egypt new food aid to replace the wheat agreement which expired last June 30.

Early in the winter of 1966, Nasser requested a new food grant from Washington. He finally canceled the request in April 1967 after the United States declined to give either a yes or no response.

Nasser underlined his feelings in a recent speech when he described the United States as "the No. 1 enemy of Egypt." He charged the United States actively supports what he called "counter-revolutionary elements" inside Egypt and in the Middle East.

"We don't want any more American aid," he declared. "Freedom is more important."

House of Commons Votes For Membership in C-M

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
LONDON — The House of Commons overwhelmingly approved last night the government's decision to apply for membership in the European Common Market.

The vote was 438 to 62. The noes were cast by 34 Labor members, 26 Conservatives, one Liberal and the one Welsh Nationalist member of parliament. Apparently more than 60 M.P.s. abstained.

Jean Monnet, the French economist who dreamed the concept of European unity and gave it life in the market, watched from the gallery. He was there through hours of debate and during the tumult of voting.

The presence of Monnet added to the emotions felt by all those in the gilded rectangular chamber. For although the one-sided victory had been expected, the actual moment was the turning of a page for Britain.

The vote was tangible evidence that both major parties in this country now solidly want Britain in the European Economic Community. The last unsuccessful application was made by a conservation government in 1961 without Labor support.

The die-hard opponents of membership who voted no last night violated orders issued by the leadership of both parties. They could be deprived of the party labels, but they are more likely merely to be reprimanded.

In fact observers said, those who defied orders and voted no probably will have the effect of making the victory look even clearer and more impressive abroad. If they had abstained or voted for the motion, the result would have been muddled by the obvious knowledge that many opponents suppressed their true feelings.

As it is, the strong anti-Europeans were shown last night to be a small percentage of both parties.

Today at 9 a.m. the British ambassador to the EEC Sir James Marjoribanks, will walk into the offices of the Community in Brussels and present the application.

Thant Urges U.S. to Halt Bombings

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant made a strong new appeal yesterday for a cessation of United States bombing of North Vietnam in order to resolve what he called "the greatest crisis facing mankind since World War II."

He reiterated his conviction that once the bombing was halted without conditions by the United States, North Vietnam would agree to enter within a few weeks into meaningful talks that would lead to an end to the war.

Thant stated his views at a reception given for him by the Speakers' Research Committee of the United Nations, a voluntary organization that provides speakers supporting U.N. aims.

Thant said it was evident that the U.S. bombing of the north had not achieved its goal of stopping or reducing infiltration into South Vietnam.

He conceded that to stop the bombing might involve "certain limited risks," but he added that the alternative as he saw it "is far more dangerous and far more disastrous."

Opening New Appliance Store Here

A new appliance store will open at 145 Conewango ave., "around June 1," said one of the store's proprietors, J. Arthur Carlson, yesterday.

Called "C & H Appliances," the store will be operated by partners Carlson and Melvin R. Haupin of 700 Conewango ave.

Both are at present employed by C. Beckley, Inc., but will reportedly be leaving that firm when the new store opens.

C & H Appliances will sell the Maytag line of appliances and do commercial and household refrigerator repairs, said Carlson.

Accept U.S. Grain Proposal

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
BRUSSELS — Ministers of the European Economic Community yesterday accepted an American Kennedy round proposal concerning grains. The ministers' move came near to completing the trade liberalization negotiations in this vital area.

Differences between the United States and the Common Market on grains and chemicals had threatened at several points in the four-year-old negotiations to lead to failure of the Kennedy round talks. Today, the ministers discuss chemicals.

Because the gap was so wide in grains, American chief negotiator William M. Roth decided Tuesday to trim the American demands. At the same time it meant the community would have to trim its demands.

The compromise which reduces drastically the scope of a new international grain agreement that is part of the Kennedy round negotiations was brought to the ministers yesterday by the Common Market's chief negotiator, Jean Rey, a member of the Community's commission and the man strongly tipped to be its new president.

For years the Americans had been saying that as part of the grains agreement they had to have guaranteed access for their farmers in the Common Market.

The Community was willing to grant this access but binding it at a level that was well below what grain exporting nations such as the U.S., Canada, Australia and Argentina now enjoy.

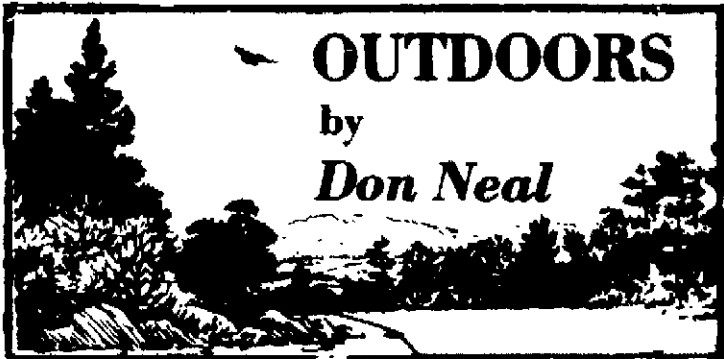

The Americans demanded 13 per cent of the market for exporters, which is what the exporters now have. The Common Market said this was unacceptable because under new farm policies its farmers, particularly the French, wanted to expand their production.

The Common Market was willing to grant 10 per cent or possibly 11 per cent. Each percentage point represents about 700,000 tons of grain.

The American Senate, which would have to ratify a gains treaty, would never accept 10 per cent.

Decision Wanted

A couple of months ago a secret meeting was held in Warren. At this meeting boating regulations for the Kinzua Dam were established.

I had asked permission to sit in on this conclave and was flatly turned down. When I wrote a column expressing the resentment I felt because of the refusal, it was said that my real gripe stemmed from an injured ego. And, to a great extent, I suppose it did.

However, at the time the fish drop was made at the dam a couple of weeks ago several top officials of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission spent a considerable amount of time trying to convince me that I should support the decisions made at the closed meeting.

How can I? Without knowing why the decisions were made, or knowing the compromises that were agreed to before they were accepted, any recommendations by me would have to be based on: (1) a desire to please the Fish Commission, or (2) my personal interests as a fisherman.

I am quite sure the boat owners who will be using the reservoir would object to my being so glib or self-centered. And, I think they would have every right to object.

So, in lieu of having attended the meeting and being aware of how the representatives of the various state and federal agencies viewed the different proposals, I am faced with the task of trying to evaluate the situation on the basis of what I hear from the boaters and fishermen as individuals.

The main bone of contention seems to be the Kinzua arm of the lake where an 8 mph speed limit has been established. The fishermen favor the regulation, the boaters object to it. Who is right?

If it's a matter of sheer numbers, the fisherman is. He outnumbers the straight pleasure boater or water skier 10-to-1. Further than this, there are the small boat users and canoeists who will go along with him as they too object to the large wakes of the bigger boats.

On the other hand, though, boaters claim that a large boat traveling at 8 mph will throw a larger wake than one planing at higher speeds. Is this a fact? I don't know, and won't know until I see it demonstrated.

The most convincing argument the boaters have, I think, is that regulations on the Kinzua arm will heavily penalize boat owners in the Kane area. At the established speed restriction, a boater from the Kane area would be faced with over an hour's traveling time each way to reach the open waters of the lake where he could water ski or "kick 'er open." This seems a bit unfair to this community.

Especially now when road connections between Kane and the "open" portions of the lake are nonexistent, and prevent the boater from hauling his rig to a launching area in less time.

Possibly because they are already behind the 8-ball, but also in a spirit of seeing everyone satisfied, the boaters show a willingness to compromise. I talked with some members of the reorganized boating club recently and found them agreeable to two possible solutions. One would be "through" traffic on the Kinzua arm, the other a time restriction on high-speed operation.

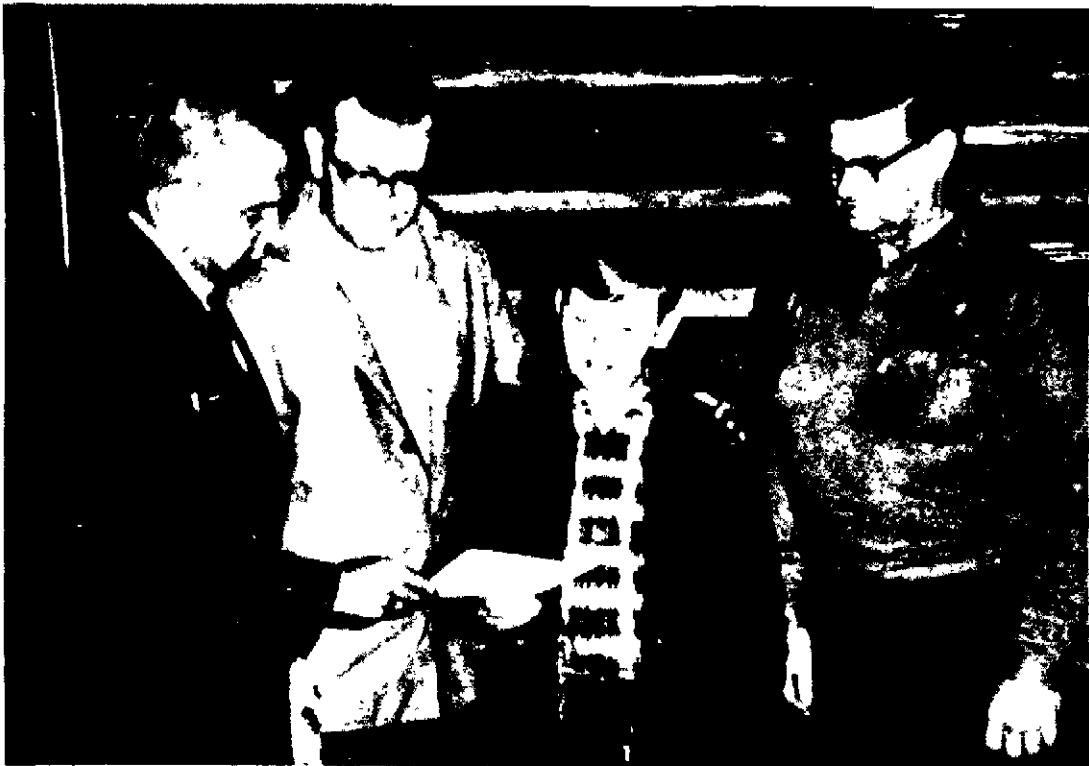

The first appeals to me more than the second. For in a "traffic" setup I don't think the limited number of boats making the trip to and from the open parts of the lake would be enough to bother the fisherman, even at high speeds. And, if limited to a specific channel, would eliminate the chances of cowboy-ing.

On the other hand, if speed restrictions were lifted between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. (the second suggestion) it shouldn't interfere too much with the fisherman, either. But the small boat operator and the canoeist would take it on the chin.

The worst part about the whole controversy is that it brings to the Kinzua waters the age-old feud that has existed between boaters and fishermen on many other lakes. And, as I see it, this animosity could perhaps have been avoided, or at least lessened, if the concerned parties would have had an opportunity to express themselves at a public meeting.

As it stands now, rational thinking on the matter will be hard to come by -- all because bureaucratic decisions were made behind closed doors. The Pennsylvania Fish Commission, who hosted the meeting, and the other state and federal agencies who participated, have created a problem they will find it hard to live with. And, if present indications mean anything, so will a certain outdoor columnist find it hard to live with.

"Thousands of sportsmen scattered over the United States have no objection to proper legislation for controlling misuse of firearms. But, to penalize the honest citizen without materially regulating firearms use by the criminal may actually benefit the criminal." Wendell Bever, Director, Oklahoma Wildlife Conservation Department

Eagle Thinclads Dumped at Corry

The Youngsville Eagles had their five-match win streak broken Tuesday at Corry as the Beavers scored a 97½ to 52½ win over the visitors. Youngsville's two mile relay team continued undefeated in dual competition with a time of 9:27.5. Running on that team are Dave Danielson, John Gallagher, Bobby Long and Milt Johnson.

Biggest upset of the day came in the javelin where Bruce Fitzgerald of the Eagles lost his first match of the year.

Joe Frisina New Corry Cage Coach

"There will be some changes made."

That is the tune that area school boards are singing following meetings early in the week.

In the county, Joe Giordano was named varsity football coach at Sheffield High School, replacing Ed Price who resigned recently.

Other changes find Joe Frisina, personable basketball official in the area, being named head cage coach at Corry High School.

He is replacing Dick Fox who was named varsity basketball coach at Erie Cathedral Prep.

Frisina played basketball at Tidouche High School before going to Gannon College and Edinboro State College. He started coaching at Spartansburg. Frisina spent eight years there, four as junior high mentor and four more as varsity coach.

He joined the Corry system in 1965, serving as assistant football coach. He resigned that position after one year. Frisina has appeared many times on the Warren County basketball courts in recent years as an official.

During the summer, Frisina is a top scout for the Pittsburgh Pirate organization.

Another change in the area finds head track coach and assistant football coach Lou Beltz resigning at Meadville. Also leaving the Bulldog coaching scene is Mike Irwin, an assistant track coach.

Beltz had been in the Meadville program for 15 years, Irwin for three seasons.

Reasons cited for the resignations were lack of interest on the part of the students and salary.

Corey Reported Doing Well at Philly Hospital

Ken Corey, local fish warden, presently a patient in a Philadelphia hospital, is doing as well as can be expected, according to a report from his son Pat. Treatments are under way, with results to be known in a few weeks.

Ken is in good spirits, Pat states, and is highly appreciative of the fine assistance given his deputies during the stocking season by the sportsmen. During Ken's illness the number of sportsmen present for each stocking doubled and tripled turnouts of other years.

Friends can expect to see "The Master" back on the job sometime later this summer.

TKO Victory

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Lightweight Pete Gonzales of Portland won an eighth round technical knockout over Irish Billy Coleman of Los Angeles in the scheduled 10-round main event Tuesday night at Portland Armory.

He finished second to Carl Hillstrom of the Beavers who had a throw of 163'7".

Other winners for the Eagles were Glenn Collins (440), Long (880), Kay Burleigh (long jump), Gary Carter (discus) and Max Collins (two mile).

Collins was clocked in :56.9 for the quarter mile jaunt. The time for Long in the half mile run was 2:17.3. Max Collins ran the two mile race in a time of 11:33.4. Carter defeated the field in the discus with a heave of 145'2½". In the long jump, Burleigh won with a distance of 18'2".

Corry was paced by their ace shot putter Fred Corbett. He put the 12-pound ball 59'8". Other winners for the Beavers were Denny Harrison in the 100 yard dash and 180 low hurdles. His times were :11.5 and :23.4 respectively. Bulard won the high hurdles in :17.5, while Swart took the 220 yard dash in :25.1.

Corry won both the 880 and mile relays. Harrington won the mile with a clocking of 5:11.9 and came back to add the pole vault at 9'9". Thiesen won the triple jump with a distance of 38'5".

Next and final match for the Eagles before the District meet will be next Tuesday at Eisenhower.

Antler Measuring Slated At Corry Club on Sunday

Pole at 400 Captured By Pearson

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP)—David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., won the pole position for Saturday's Rebel 400 stock car race at Darlington Raceway yesterday in record-breaking fashion.

Pearson, driving his first race in a Holman-Moody Ford, averaged 144.536 miles per hour to shatter the old track record of 140.315 m.p.h. held by Richard Petty.

Petty, in a 1967 Plymouth, was the day's second fastest qualifier at 144.472.

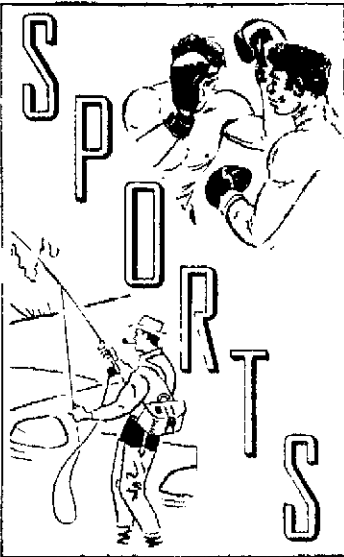

Pearson turned a top lap of 145.331 to shatter the old one-lap record of 141.225. Pearson has succeeded Fred Lorenzen, top money winner who retired recently, as driver of the Holman-Woody Ford.

Earl Balmer of Floyd's Knob, Ind., was third at 143.822 in a Fairlane prepared by the Wood brothers of Stuart, Va. Balmer replaces Cale Yarborough, who normally drives the car but is preparing for Indianapolis 500 qualifying. It was Balmer's first ride in the car.

Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N.C., was fourth fastest in a 1967 Dodge at 143.801. Darel Dingerling, also of Charlotte, was fifth in a 1967 Fairlane at 143.416.

Rounding out the day's top qualifiers were Paul Goldsmith of Munster, Ind., in a 1967 Plymouth, 141.297; Jim Paschal of High Point, N.C., 1967 Plymouth, 141.156; and Dick Hutcherson of Camden, S.C., 1967 Fairlane, 140.178.

Eight additional starting positions will be filled with four-lap qualifying runs this afternoon. There are 36 starting positions in the $64,000 event.

Season Openers Set At Eriez, Stateline

At least half the field will be 1967 models when the late model racing season begins with identical programs Saturday night at 8:30 at Stateline Speedway, Busti, N.Y., and Sunday at 8 at Eriez Speedway, at Erie.

There's a heavy preference for the lightweight Chevilles, but there'll be plenty of Chrysler and Ford products in the 35-car opening night lineup, as well.

Defending point champion Chuck Piazza of Jamestown, N.Y., has moved south, and his 1967 Chevilles is to be driven by Fred Knapp of Ashville, N.Y. Also in '67 Chevilles are Ron Blackmer of Youngsville and John Whitehead of North Clymer, N.Y., former point champs. Jamestown's Paul Wilson, Brockway's Squire Johns, Bob Schnars of Busti, N.Y., Dick Litz of Erie and newcomer Jim Morgan of Union City, also have '67 Chevilles.

But Erie's Tom Dill will be in a '67 Dodge, Emory Mahan of Warren and Jerry Curtis of Conneaut, Ohio, have '67 Plymouths, Jim Scott of Grand Valley has a '67 Pontiac, Rich Miller of Girard, a '67 Buick, and Willie Dietz of Bradford and Greg Reynolds of Waterford have Fords. Newcomers Hank McDowney of Franklin and Sam Colwell of Knox have selected '65 Chevilles.

Blackmer and Lyle Brown of Sugar Grove head the field in the sportsman division. There'll be the usual program at both tracks—a half-dozen races in each class, and two 25-lap features.

Boone and Crockett Club methods, which permit the owner to see how his trophy compared with whitetail deer taken elsewhere. Each owner receives a card listing the official measurement of his trophy.

Antlers must have been taken in the commonwealth, and trophies taken by both resident and non-resident hunters are eligible. The program is a public service of the Game Commission, and no charge is made for measuring.

The following rules govern this contest:

1. Only "Y" bucks or greater will be measured.

2. Split or repaired skulls will not be accepted.

3. Antlers may not show removed or repaired points.

4. Trophy was taken in compliance with the Pennsylvania Game Law.

5. The Pennsylvania Game Commission shall not be responsible for any trophy lost or damaged.

6. The Pennsylvania Game Commission retains the right to reject any entry.

7. Trophies measured in a previous Game Commission contest may not be re-entered.

8. All measurements of the judges will be final.

Lakewood Holds Kid Fish Derby

LAKEWOOD, N. Y. — Lakewood Rod and Gun Club's annual fishing derby for youngsters is scheduled Saturday according to Co-Chairman Fred Lawson.

The event is open to all youngsters 6 to 16 years of age. It starts at 11:30 a.m. and free hot dogs, pop and popcorn will be available.

Three age groups have been set up. The first, up to 6 years of age, will open the program at 11:30 to be followed in 20 minutes by the 6-10 age boys and girls. The older group, 10-16, will fish from 12:35 p.m. to 1:15 p.m.

Bait is furnished, and the contest is open to all youngsters, who need only to bring their own pole and hook. Lawson said, Chairman is Robert Johnson.

Joe Frazier Turns Down Berth in Heavy Tourney

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The backers of unbeaten Joe Frazier want no part of a proposed eight man elimination tournament to determine a successor to heavyweight champion Cassius Clay.

Cloverlay Corp., owner of Frazier's contract, yesterday turned down the offer of the newly-formed Sports Action, Inc., to send the 23-year-old Philadelphian into such a tourney.

The corporation's board of directors unanimously voted to go along with Frazier's trainer, Yancy Durham, who wants to pursue an independent course with the No. 3 ranked contender. Clay has been stripped of his heavyweight title by most boxing organizations for refusing to enter the armed forces. He is out on bail after pleading innocent to a federal grand jury indictment on charges of refusing to be drafted. It is doubtful if he can fight in the United States.

Sports Action, headed by Mike Malitz, has proposed a tournament which would include Frazier, former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, Ernie Terrell, Kark Mildenberger of Germany, George Chuvalo, Thad Spencer, Oscar Bonavena of Argentina, and Jimmy Ellis.

Cloverlay, headed by Dr. Bruce Baldwin, a food chain executive, said the terms of the contract offered by Sports Action were unsatisfactory. The corporation objected particularly to be tied to the Malitz group should Frazier win the elimination tournament.

Sports Action has demanded the ancillary rights to the eventual survivor's bouts for two years. Also, it wants the winning boxer to make his first title defense in the Astrodome at Houston, Tex. After the first defense, the choice of opponents and the promoter would revert to the champion, although Sports Action would hold the radio and television rights for the two year period.

Malitz, whose Main Bout group handled ancillary rights ad promotions for Clay, also includes Fred Hofmeier of Houston and Jimmy Brown, former star of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Cloverlay is a group of 220 business and civic leaders who invested upwards of $250 each in Frazier's career. While the corporation controls the purse strings of the Philadelphia heavyweight, Durham has the power to decide who Frazier fights and where and when.

Frazier has won all 16 of his fights, 14 by knockout and is considered the brightest young star in the heavyweight ranks. Durham feels his boy can make out better financially and artistically campaigning independently.

Frazier already has defeated Bonavena, and Durham feels the other six mentioned for the tournament should fight it out for the right to take on his fighter. He wants only one fight for Frazier for the crown. He rates Frazier as the biggest drawing card and estimates he can get much more than the $50,000 guarantee offered by Sports Action for tournament fights.

Sports Action has worked out a schedule that would send Patterson against Bonavena in Houston July 15, and lists Terrell against Ellis, Frazier vs. Chuvalo and Mildenberger against Spencer. Tentatively, the semifinals would be held Oct. 21, and Dec. 2, and the final in late January, 1968.

Clay, of course, hasn't conceded his title and wants to fight Chuvalo in Montreal. He also is talking about other bouts outside the United States against such opponents as Leotis Martin and Spencer or Patterson. He will have to get court permission, however, to leave the country.

The Cloverlay board meeting was picketed by Martin, a Philadelphia heavyweight, who is seeking a fight with Frazier.

Torres Will Retire If Tiger Beats Him

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres spoke optimistically yesterday about knocking out Dick Tiger and then said he will retire from the ring if he loses next Tuesday's title fight.

"I'll knock his brains out," said the 31-year-old Torres before going through a sparkling three-round workout with Marion Connor, who bears a close physical resemblance to Tiger and has a similar boxing style.

The Puerto Rican-born New Yorker meets Tiger, the light heavyweight champion, in a return bout at Madison Square Garden May 16. The 37-year-old Nigerian dethroned Torres on a unanimous decision last Dec. 16.

"I was bad that night," admitted Torres. "I didn't jab enough and I didn't punch enough. I had many opportunities to knock him out but I didn't take advantage of the openings. I know the openings will be there again and this time I'll be ready for them."

Torres said he still was worried about his pancreas trouble in the last fight. "It was on my mind and it bothered my concentration," he said. "I feel fine right now and I'll be coming out punching." When asked how long he would fight, he replied that the Tiger fight could be his last. "I'll definitely retire if I lose," he said, "and I may even quit if I win. While I have no pain now, doctors tell me that the trouble comes from fighting. So I may we have failed."

Bandini's pregnant wife occupied a room in the same hospital. She was in a state of shock and fear was expressed both for her and her baby. She fainted when told of the death.

Bandini, 34, winner of the Daytona Beach 24-hour Continental Road Race in February and the 1,000-mile Monza race in April, was driving a Ferrari along the twisting Monte Carlo course when suddenly the car overturned and caught fire.

The driver's clothing was in flames when he was pulled from the inferno. Investigators said that, despite some criticism of rescue operations, security measures functioned properly.

Only a few hours earlier, the hospital had reported improvement in Bandini's condition and of plans to transfer him to the Traumatological Center in Turin.

"At the beginning of the afternoon, we noted a blocking of the kidneys," Doctor Orrechcia said. "Then a swift rise in blood pressure which causes a cardiac halt." The doctor said heart massage was tried for about 1½ hours.

A former mechanic who made his way to big time racing with motorcycles, Bandini began his auto racing career in 1958, winning the world trophy for junior cars that year.

He raced Cooper-Maseratis and Cooper-Climaxes before he was hired by Ferrari in 1963. He took a Ferrari Formula One to victory in the Syracuse Grand Prix his first year.

He had not won any of the great annual international races until this year, although he finished sixth in the world drivers' championship in 1965. He was elevated to No. 1 driver for Ferrari when John Surtees quit in a disagreement in 1966.

Bandini won the Daytona Beach race teamed with Chris Amon of New Zealand. He had been Italian Formula One champion the last four years.

Don Heifner, Billy Herman, Bob Lemon and Mike Roarke are coaching for Manager Bill Rigney of the California Angels.

Big Buster Not Ready For Chance

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Gus D'Amato says former sign painter Buster Mathis isn't quite ready to battle for the heavyweight boxing title stripped from Cassius Clay.

"But by the time those eight guys have finished knocking each other around, he just might be ready," he added.

The World Boxing Association deemed Clay unworthy of its version of the crown because he refused to serve in the US Army. Eight-man elimination tournament is in the works to determine the champion.

The stocky, white-haired D'Amato was in Detroit Tuesday to talk about Friday's 10-round bout between Mathis and Irish Ed Hurley.

D'Amato said that Mathis, 22, was still in New York.

"He's got emotional problems," said D'Amato. "He needs supervision. That's why I only let him go home once a year — at Christmas."

"When he goes home, he eats. And then he balloons to around 300 pounds."

Mathis, who has won all 17 of his professional fights, should weigh in tomorrow at about 240 pounds, D'Amato said.

"This is a big fight for my boy," he said. "I'll be the first time he'll get into a 10-rounder. I've been keeping him in the six-round fights so far because you've got to bring fighters up carefully."

TOSES FIVE-HITTER FOR 4-1 IN OVER CARDS

Buccos' Veale Ups Record to 5-0

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Willie Stargell's two-run homer and Bob Veale's five-hit pitching through 8 2-3 innings led Pittsburgh to a 4-1 victory over St. Louis last night.

Veale struck out nine before walking two men with two out in the ninth when he was replaced by Elroy Face who got Roger Maris to line out to Bill Mazeroski at second, ending the game.

Veale won his fifth game of the season, becoming the winningest pitcher in the majors.

Stargell swatted Card pitcher Dick Hughes' pitch into the right-field stands in the third inning, with Gene Alley, who had tripped, scoring ahead of him.

The Cardinals came back to nick Veale for a run in the fourth, when Julian Javier walked, moved to second on a ground out and scored on Mike Shannon's double.

The Pirates scored two more runs in the eighth as Matty Alou came in when Alley was caught in a run-down between first and second and, after making it safely to second, Alou scored on Bill Mazeroski's double.

Tigers-Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Willie Horton belted a two-run homer as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians 4-2 last night.

Horton's blast in the sixth inning followed a walk to Al Kaline and gave Detroit a 4-1 lead. Mickey Lolich struck out nine but needed ninth inning help from Fred Gladding to nail down his fourth victory in five decisions.

The Indians got their first run on Larry Brown's homer in the third inning.

Sonny Siebert retired the first 10 Tigers he faced before they pounced on him for four hits and two runs in the fourth. Singles by Jim Northrup and Norm Cash drove in the runs.

The victory was Detroit's fifth straight and eighth in the last nine games. Cleveland has dropped six of the last seven and four straight.

Athletics-BoSox

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rick Monday hit a home run and drove in three runs, leading Kansas City to a 7-4 victory over Boston last night.

Monday's homer came in the eighth inning off Don McMahon after the Athletics had moved ahead of Boston 5-4 in the seventh on Danny Cater's infield out and Dick Green's single.

Monday drove in two runs in the third inning when the A's tied the score 3-3. Boston, which had moved out to a three-run lead in the first inning on George Scott's two-run single, went ahead again in the fourth on Tony Horton's run-scoring single.

The A's scored again in the eighth on four straight walks by McMahon.

ChiSox-Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Chicago White Sox smashed four home runs and Tommy John pitched a six-hitter, defeating the Baltimore Orioles 13-1 last night.

The victory was the sixth straight for the streaking White Sox and marked the Orioles' sixth straight loss and then ninth setback in the last 10 games for the defending world champions.

Tom McCraw whacked a two-run homer in the fourth and Pete Ward connected with the bases empty in the sixth for the White Sox, who had scored five runs on six singles, three walks and John's sacrifice fly in the third.

Rookie Dick Kenworthy and Tommie Agee blasted consecutive homers in the ninth for Chicago.

Curt Blefary's bases-empty homer in the ninth ended John's bid for a shutout.

Phils-Braves

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two home runs by Joe Torre powered Atlanta to a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia last night in the second game of a twin-bill doubleheader.

Torre also homered in the first game, won by the Phillies 4-3.

Hank Aaron and Mack Jones hit two-run homers in the second game to give Wade Blasingame his first decision of the season although the left-hander needed help in the sixth from Phil Niekro.

Aaron also got an inside-the-park homer in the eighth inning of the opener. With punch-hitter Miguel De La Hoz on first, he lofted one deep into center to tie the game at 3-3.

A bases-loaded wild pitch by Niekro in the ninth scored Don Lock for Philadelphia's triumph in the opener.

Cubs-Giants

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Williams clouted a two-run homer and winning pitcher Ken Holtzman contributed a two-run single in leading the Chicago Cubs to a 5-4 victory over San Francisco yesterday.

Williams drove his second home run of the season into the left field stands in the first inning, also scoring Glenn Beckert, who had singled.

Holtzman's fourth inning single off Giants' starter Gaylord Perry scored Randy Hundley and Adolfo Phillips and gave the Cubs a 4-1 lead.

Chicago registered its final run in the seventh when Phillips stole home after singling and advancing on a sacrifice and an infield out.

Dodgers-Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Willie Davis' two-out single ignited a four-run Los Angeles rally in the 10th inning and lifted the Dodgers past Houston 5-1 last night.

Davis singled with two out and then stole second. Ron Hunt's single drove him home with the tie-breaking run. After Joe Morgan booted Ron Fairly's grounder, Jim Lefebvre doubled Hunt home. Then Fairly scored on a balk, and John Roseboro singled Lefebvre across.

Reds-Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Robinson, John Edwards and Tony Perez each drove in two runs, powering the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets last night.

The Reds raked Met starter Don Cardwell for five runs in the first three innings, helping right-hander Milt Pappas gain his third victory in five decisions.

Pappas needed relief help in the seventh after giving up 11 hits, including a two-run homer by Ed Kranepool and a bases-empty blast by Al Luplow.

Bowling

Riverside Sylvania Couples League—Zips won a rolloff for the league championship 2198 to 1869 over the Bensicks last night at Riverside. High for the winners were George Boston 189-556; Minor Snarburg 201-540, Ann Hill 191-535 and Millie Snarburg 142-417. Leading the losers was Ray Benson with a 176-481 mark.

Ladies Summer League—There will be a meeting on May 17 at Riverside for anyone wishing to bowl in this league. Interested parties should call either Bev Schuler 723-9051, Ruth Dahlhausen 723-8239, Dot Johandnes 757-8153 or Mary Broker 723-9458. Anyone interested in bowling in a summer couples league should call Riverside lanes at 723-9710.

WOMEN CHAMPS AT LIMESTONE

WHAT'S WRONG WITH ORIOLES?

Not Even Purple Rabbit's Foot Can Help Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — "These things won't help," Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer said, picking up a purple-tinted rabbit's foot which looked as sickly as the Orioles' wonlost record.

The so-called lucky charms were on each clubhouse chair Tuesday night, distributed by an assistant equipment manager who said the donor wished to remain anonymous.

A couple of hours later, the defending world champions of baseball had moved another notch toward anonymity themselves, losing 5-4 to Chicago—a fifth consecutive defeat which left the Orioles tied for eighth place in the American League.

Bauer was right about the rabbit's foot, but so far he hasn't been able to shake the team's 1-8 slump and the resulting 9-13 record.

During the last nine games, the team batting average has been below .200 with Baltimore scoring just 21 runs—eight in the lone victory during the stretch.

The Orioles, who batted .263 for the first half of 1966 while opening up a huge lead on the way to the pennant, are hitting a not-too-robust .232.

But the hitters can't shoulder all the blame. "It's not just one thing," said outfielder Frank Robinson, the league's most valuable player in 1966. "We're not hitting, not getting the pitching and not fielding the way we should. . . all of it, it's as simple as that."

"If it were one thing, we could work on it. But it's everything."

Outfielder Curt Blefary had an even more succinct summation: "It's a team effort."

The pitching staff, plagued by wildness and bothered by sore arms, has an earned run average of 3.50 with two complete games in 22 starts.

Dave McNally, sharp in spring training, is 1-2 with a 5.81 ERA. Tom Phoebus, another starter, is 1-1 with a 5.32 ERA. Wally Bunker, 1-2 and 5.65, is currently assigned to the bullpen.

Even Stu Miller, the 39-year-old relief specialist with a 9-4 record and 16 saves last season, has been affected. He has lost all three of his decisions and has a 4.22 ERA.

"The pitching has been good enough—if we were hitting like last year," Coach Billy Hunter said. "If we don't hit, we're in trouble. But with the proven hitters we have, you've got to think we will."

Frank Robinson, at .321, is the only regular over .300, but he hasn't hit a home run since connecting for No. 5 on April 23. Brooks Robinson is at .217 with seven runs batted in, as compared with 25 after the same number of games last season. With Brooks in a slump which carried over from the last half of 1966, Bauer plans to drop him from the cleanup spot to sixth in the batting order against right-handers.

But there will be no line-up changes, Bauer reasoning, "If I bench one, I've got to bench them all."

"You don't get out of a slump sitting down," Bauer said. "You've got to get up and swing."

He just doesn't know what to do about it.

Office of Education Loses Power to Cut Off Fed Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sweeping reorganization that in effect takes away the Office of Education's power to cut off federal funds to noncomplying school districts was announced yesterday by Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner.

The new move, tailored to meet demands from Congress, calls for centralization of all civil rights enforcement personnel in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare into a unit directly responsible to Gardner.

At a news conference, Gardner made public an exchange of letters with Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, outlining the new consolidations.

"While these changes will require extensive personnel reassignments and revisions in the regulations, we are prepared to initiate immediately the required steps," Gardner told Flood.

"In place of our present organization, which locates staff and compliance functions in five agencies and authorizes the agency heads to order the termination of funds, our reorganization would establish a centralized staff unit in the office of the secretary and the probable assignment of the review of decisions of hearing examiners to an administrative tribunal," the secretary added.

Now the various agencies inside the Welfare Department have the power to cut off funds, after hearing, to enforce desegregation guidelines in schools and hospitals. The new plan would affect 278 employees now working in the Office of Education, the Public Health Service, the Welfare Department and various regional and central offices.

Gardner said the changeover will not affect the department's prosecution of the Civil Rights Act. "We will continue to go just as fast as we have," he told newsmen. "We're already doing as much as we can."

Gardner said he has discussed the new plan with the White House and about six civil rights leaders. The civil rights leaders, he said, "have a wait-and-see attitude."

Some civil rights spokesmen have been sharply critical of what they call the department's laxness in enforcing desegregation guidelines in federally financed schools and hospitals of the South.

On the other hand, Congress has been critical of the Office of Education's cutting off of funds to southern school districts and has singled out Dr. Harold Howe, education commissioner, for much of the attack. Howe said an estimated $25 million in federal funds has been denied thus far to non-complying school districts under the Civil Rights Act.

$400,000 Asked For Area Flood Control Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House appropriations subcommittee was asked yesterday to recommend appropriation of $400,000 for construction of the Muddy Creek Flood Control Dam in Crawford County, Pa.

The request was made by Rep. Joseph R. Viorito, D-Pa. The item was not included in President Johnson's budget for the year beginning July 1.

The subcommittee also was asked by Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., to increase by $17,000 the $5,000 recommended by Johnson for a flood control survey of the Schuylkill River at Pottstown, Pa.

Schweiker said that, if only $5,000 is appropriated, the study will not be completed until December 1969 at the earliest. Addition of the extra funds, he said, would lead to completion of the study in 18 months.

Viorito said the Muddy Creek Dam is one of three proposed for the French Creek Basin where, he said, thousands have seen their homes ravished by floods for generations. He said the other dams are to be built at Woodcock Creek and Union City.

Johnson's budget for the next fiscal year includes funds to acquire land for the Woodcock Creek Dam and for continued pre-construction planning for the Union City project.

Borough Police Seek Stolen Car

Warren borough police have alerted area law enforcement agencies to be on the lookout for a car stolen from the Ettinger Keystone Station parking lot on Pennsylvania avenue.

The vehicle, taken sometime between 7:30 p. m. Monday and noon on Tuesday, is a 1959 Plymouth coupe, two door, two-tone blue with dark blue body and light blue top.

Owned by Mabel Schweitzer, Apt. 40, Exchange Hotel, the missing car carries Pennsylvania registration 25237 J.

In Washington

Sunny Lucia of Warren, a Pennsylvania delegate to the national convention of Republican women, visited with Sen. Hugh Scott during the conference. Others from his district included Mrs. Forest Irwin of Franklin and Mrs. Edith Hughes of Oil City.

GREETING-AND-MESSAGE

To All Warren County Democrats

Just four days from today — on Tuesday, May 16 — you will nominate the man you think will make a good county commissioner.

You will want him never to lose sight of the fact that he is there to represent you faithfully, because you put him there; to be responsible and responsive; to look after your real needs and the needs of the County as a whole; to keep a sharp eye on all taxes; and never, never to forget he is primarily a public servant.

If these are some of the qualifications you want in your County Commissioner, besides a lifetime of experience in working with and for fellow-citizens and neighbors: BE SURE — VOTE FOR SIDNEY MASON — number 1 on the ballot.

Ousted Greek Premier Charged With Conspiracy

ATHENS (AP) — Andreas Papandreu, U.S.-trained politician-economist son of a former premier, was charged yesterday with conspiracy to commit high treason by overthrowing the monarchy.

He was transferred in a closed army van from a hotel in an Athens suburb, where he had been held since the army seized power in Greece April 21, to Averoff Prison in downtown Athens.

Under Greek law, Papandreu, 48, could be sentenced to life imprisonment if convicted. The new military regime has indicated that no death penalty is contemplated.

U.S. diplomats have sought assurances that Papandreu would not be executed. Magistrate Socrates Socra-tides ordered Papandreu arrested after questioning him in connection with a civilian investigation into the alleged Aspidas army conspiracy plot. Aspidas means shield.

The government charges leftist army officers in Aspidas plotted to overthrow the monarchy, take Greece out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and set up a Socialist state.

A three-member judiciary committee must decide whether there is enough evidence against Papandreu to warrant a trial.

Gen. Gregory Spantidakis, the new deputy premier and defense minister, asked in Paris about the prisoner's fate, said, "We are not a government of executioners."

'KNOW YOUR COUNTY'

Staff Services

A. PERSONNEL

1. Does your county have a merit system? If so, how does the system operate? Does it have a well-integrated program of recruitment, in-service training, promotion, and retirement? What positions are included in its jurisdiction? What positions are exempt? How many merit system employees are on the county payroll?

There is no merit system except in Child Welfare, which operates under state civil service. When employees are needed they are selected by the county commissioners from applicants recommended by the director of Warren County Child Welfare, and approved by the state. There is a retirement program, but this is not under a merit system. All full time employees participate - part time employees are not included. The only employees under a merit system are the five employees in Child Welfare.

2. Does your state government have a merit system? If so, does your county operate under it? If not, can your county - and does it - obtain advice and guidance from the state, from state boards or commissions, or from the state university's public administration department in the selection of qualified personnel?

The state's merit system is Civil Service. The county operates under it only for Child Welfare. There is no state guidance other than in Child Welfare.

3. Is the merit system in partial use in your county - for programs administering federal grants-in-aid, for example? Yes, through state administration of federal aid to Child Welfare.

4. How does your county hire personnel not included in its merit system? Does it use a personnel officer? How much turnover is there in staff? Which appointees change with elections? Personnel is hired upon application and recommendation from department heads. There is no personnel officer. There is very little turnover in staff - two or three a year. No appointees change with elections.

B. FINANCE

Accounting and Auditing:

1. Do you have a county auditor? Is he elected or appointed? There are three county auditors, elected every four years at the same time and under the same system as the commissioners. Two nominees are chosen by each party. The three candidates with the highest number of votes are elected.

2. Does the auditor have any control over receipts and disbursements of the treasurer?

No. They only audit, but are free to check invoices and receipts.

3. Are regular audits made? By independent auditing firms or by the state? When was the last county audit made?

Audits are made every month. Completed reports of county auditors are signed by the County Court Judge and submitted to the state for approval. The last monthly audit at the time of the League of Women Voters interview was in Feb., 1967. The annual audit begins in January and takes three months to complete.

4. What relationship exists between state and county financial authorities? What do your state laws say about keeping accounts and making regular reports? If auditing services are available from your state does your county use them?

The state makes no contribution to general county government. If the county incurs any large debts that will not be paid within a year it must have the approval of the state Bureau of Internal Affairs. When the state gives out grants for local projects - usually the administration of federal money - the expenses of that project are audited by the state. The only regular reports made to the state are the auditors' reports. There are no state auditing services available. The county commissioners account to the state for liquid fuels taxes, a grant from the state, which they distribute. The state auditor checks the county treasurer's collection of state funds and the county register-recorder collection of state taxes.

FINANCIAL REPORTING

1. Do you have a compulsory system for your county officers to use in reporting obligations and expenditures? If so, how frequently must reports be filed? Are standard reporting forms in use? If not, are reports filed on a regular basis?

No, we do not have such a system.

C. PROCUREMENT AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT - Purchasing

1. Does your county have a central purchasing department? If so, is it administered by a purchasing agent?

No. The chief clerk in the commissioners' office does the purchasing, approved when necessary by the commissioners.

2. Which purchases are under the control of this office? Are bids received on an open, competitive basis, with carefully worked out specifications?

All courthouse and county purchases are under the control of the commissioners. Bids are received on a competitive basis.

3. If you do not have a purchasing department, what procedures are followed in connection with purchases of supplies and equipment?

Small purchases are made locally from county business firms. Large purchases are ordered directly from the factory.

4. Are state purchasing-department facilities available to your county? No.

SPACE PROCUREMENT AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

1. Which county officer is responsible for space procurement? Does he use any standard procedures in obtaining space for county offices?

The commissioners are responsible for space procurement and all office space is assigned by them.

2. Is there joint occupancy of buildings between county offices and other local units? For which services or boards? Yes, Civil defense, Agricultural Extension and County Schools, within limitations of state laws.

3. Which official manages your county property? What system is used for controlling the dispersal of county property? The county commissioners are responsible for dispersal of county property.

RECORD KEEPING AND RECORD MANAGEMENT

1. Which officer is charged with the duty of recording deeds and other public documents?

The Register and Recorder, who is also Clerk of Orphans Court.

2. What documents may be recorded?

Deeds, mortgages, commissions, oaths, powers of attorney, military discharges, financing statements, charters.

3. What other functions does the Register perform? How important is this office in your county government?

He records all letters to do with estates, either testamentary or administrative. As Clerk of Orphans Court he files all papers and proceedings in adoptions, guardianships, voluntary relinquishments, accounts of estates and any litigation having to do with administration of estates. Also, he issues marriage licenses, and during the period from 1893 through 1905 he issued birth and death certificates. The complete and accurate records kept by this office are of vital importance in county government.

4. Does your county maintain archives or use a system of record management in preserving public documents? Which department is responsible for this program?

County records are kept in the Courthouse. Since October, 1953 all records have been photographed in the Register and Recorder's office, the film sent to Hall and McClesney, Syracuse, N.Y., who return an enlargement of the print and keep the microfilm on file.

The Register and Recorder is responsible for this program.

BROTHERS FROM BEAR LAKE

Handicapped Pair To Attend Corry High

Two Bear Lake brothers, both confined to wheel chairs with a crippling disease, will enter Corry schools on a tuition basis.

Both are above average intelligence and have been members of the Corry Club "The Overcomers," sponsored by the CHEER organization for the handicapped.

School superintendent Ray

Elsea told members of the Corry Area Joint School committee that the boys' mother is concerned over the fact that if she is unable to get her sons into the Columbus and Corry Area High schools, she will be faced with a 20-mile drive to the nearest Warren County school. The drive to CAHS from Bear Lake is only half that far.

Elsea said it was likely the Warren County School District would pay tuition for both boys in Corry jointure schools. Elsea's main concern was the older boy getting around readily in the high school with its capacity load and crowded halls between classes.

Board members agreed to try enrolling the youngster on the theory some way could be worked out to handle any difficulties which may arise. The committee voted unanimously to enroll both boys.

The move means the mother can drive to Columbus to drop off the younger boy and proceed the remaining short distance to Corry.

WARREN, PA., THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1967

THE ATTRACTIVE NUISANCE

This is the "attractive nuisance" mentioned at Monday's borough council meeting. The former First EUB Church, now being demolished, might attract curious youngsters, who could be injured if they venture too near the structure. It was noted at the council meeting that although the primary liability for any such injuries is the contractor's, the borough could find some way to "keep the kids out." The police department is reportedly keeping an eye on the building, which is next to police headquarters. (Photo by Mansfield)

BEGINS ON JUNE 10

YMCA's Summer Programs Start With Canadian Trip

School will be out and summer here, sooner than parents think. The YMCA has programs to assure boys and girls a memorable vacation.

The annual Canadian canoe trip is scheduled to start June 10 and continue through June 17. The trip is located in Algonquin Park, an Ontario Provincial Park which is being preserved as a wilderness area.

The group will leave Warren June 10 (Saturday) and arrive at Algonquin Park that evening, returning home June 17. Two qualified adult leaders accompany the boys who must be 13-years-old and not over 18. The boys must be able to pass a swimming test and physical examination as well as undergo a test to see if they can carry ance, craft material, T-shirt for boys and girls and food for the overnight campout.

A deposit of $5 is required with each application the balance to be paid the Friday before attending camp. Each camp period will be limited to 50 campers.

August 13-19 and 20-26 are the dates for YMCA resident camp at Camp Onyasha (the Jamestown, N.Y. Y camp on Chautauque Lake). The camp is located on a sheltered bay 17 miles north of Jamestown on Route 17 near Dewittville.

The program includes pioneering, archery, crafts, nature lore, air rifle instruction, canoeing, boating, hiking, water skiing and a variety of other activities.

Adventure camp for boys 12 years and older will again be available. A new program will have only eight boys spending more time in training for wilderness living.

Transportation to the camp is the responsibility of the camper.

There will be no visiting days other than opening and closing days and food is not to be brought by or sent the boys. A Camp Store is open once a day and it is recommended a fund of $5 for the store, all money to be deposited on registration day with purchases to be charged to the individual's account.

For boys spending two weeks at Camp Onyasha, religious services will be available.

The fee for Y members is $30 per period, $33 for non-members. A deposit of $5 is required with each application, the balance due by August 7. The camp director is Kenneth E. Hale and complete details regarding the summer programs is available at the Warren YMCA.

Hinman Speaks at SMC Meet

It is generally accepted that a business manager is responsible for motivating his subordinates, but how does he motivate himself?

This question will be answered by Harold L. Hinman, a professor of psychology, when he speaks here before the Sylvania Management Club at its monthly meeting Monday, May 15.

"What Motivates Man?" will be the title of Hinman's presentation, one which "all Sylvania Management Club members should hear," club president Max L. Jayne said this week. It is not generally recognized that each manager is also responsible for motivating himself and other members of the management team, but it is expected the featured speaker will make this clear at next Monday's meeting.

The meeting will be held at the K of C Hall, starting with a dinner at 6 p.m. The business portion of the evening will get underway at 8 p.m. Bob Zimmerman, SMC program chairman, indicated this meeting will be one of "great enlightenment" for the club's members.

"Hinman comes to us under the sponsorship of the National Management Association," Zimmerman said, "and I personally look for a very interesting program."

Professor Hinman received an A.B. degree in psychology from Franklin and Marshall College and did graduate work at Temple University.

Before World War II, he was an actor in the legitimate theater, a professional boxer, wrestler and football player and also served as an athletic coach and official as well as a YMCA physical director. From 1934 through 1941 he served as an industrial product supervisor and a personnel and training director in industry. In 1941 he entered the service as a supervisor of special services and later became supervisor of area labor market analysis.

After 1945 he transferred to the position of chief psychologist in charge of guidance centers for the Veterans Administration where he remained until joining the faculty of the Pennsylvania State University in 1949.

Since then, Professor Hinman has conducted executive development programs in industry, and supervised management workshops and seminars for companies large and small. As a private consultant, he has been associated with the U.S. Navy and Air Force, the Pennsylvania Railroad, RCA, Caterpillar Tractor Co., the Magee Carpet Co., Sperry Rand and many others. He has also lectured regularly for several years on television's "University of the Air," and now has a weekly TV program called "Dealing With People."

Long Hair Banned

From Athens, Greece, comes word the Greek ministries of the interior and public order issued an order Tuesday forbidding the admission to Greece of tourists with beards or long hair. If the bearded or long-haired tourist insists on entering the country, he must cut off his hair and beard and not let them grow again. Tourists in slovenly dress also will be barred.

Breakfast Briefs

Seek Apprentices

The Western Pennsylvania Operating Engineers are seeking apprentices in the Warren area. Men between 18 and 28, with high school educations or the equivalent, are eligible for the jobs to become open in late July. Classroom sessions will be held from September to March two evenings a week, with a Christmas vacation. Applications can be filed at the International Union of Operating Engineers, 434 Pennsylvania ave. W.

Include Elementary

Corry School District has agreed to add the elementary level of Spring Creek's school system to the Corry Area Jointure School District. The Corry board was the last of the jointure to make the ratification, which has been in effect for three years. The Spring Creek secondary level already had been a part of the jointure.

Semi Hits Deer on Route 62

A Pennsylvania man escaped injury early yesterday morning when his tractor-trailer collided with a deer and left Route 62, about 15 miles south of Warren.

State police trooper Harry W. Jabo, who investigated the 5:15 a. m. mishap, said the rig, operated by Earl Otis Cole, of St. Charles, was traveling north on Route 62 when the deer jumped onto the highway and was hit.

Jabo said the tractor-trailer went out of control and struck a concrete culvert, causing $1,000 damage to the undercarriage of the rig which was partly loaded with damaged furniture en route to a furniture factory.

Property damage totaled $400 in a two-car traffic accident on Route 6 in Clarendon borough at 4:40 p. m. Tuesday.

Trooper Edward Shaffer said a car driven by Oswald J. Misaki pulled out on an intersection into the path of a car operated by Francis Jerome Fiscus of Brookville, traveling east on Route 6.

Town Crier

... By Les Rickey

What'll they think of next? The answer, friend, is almost anything. And to prove it, there's the latest word from Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., this week's action spot.

Dentists meeting there heard a Philadelphia member of their peer group say that the science has found a way to treat seriously decayed teeth, one in which they can't bite the hand that fills them.

You just pull them out, fix them up, and put them right back in place.

Abscessed teeth, for instance, can be pulled and the tips cut off. A silver filling is applied to the infected root canal, and the tooth is ready for more wear and tear, after it settles into place in about a month.

I'm not too concerned with the matter personally, because the Navy permanently absolved me of that woory. When I was in boot camp, they sent me to sickbay, knocked me out, and went to work. Two such trips and it was oatmeal mush for breakfast, lunch, and dinner for the next six weeks.

But it reminds me of a science fiction story I read when I was about 11 years old. The method described in that story was to pull the tooth and insert a catalyst - that is, I'm told, an element or a compound of elements which do not act themselves, but cause other elements or compounds to act. What this little thing did, then, was start an action that eventually grew a new tooth through calcium deposits.

Somewhat it doesn't seem so far-fetched now as it did then. But I suppose we were all sleepies at age 11.

MRS. HENRY LANMAN WILL ENTERTAIN members of the Warren Garden Club in her home, 509 Fourth avenue, for the annual club luncheon. The program for the afternoon will include installation of officers for the new season; a talk and demonstration by Mrs. Edmund Munson of Portland, N.Y., on how to dry garden and field flowers; and, important information for everyone who intends to participate in the Annual Fall Flower Show on grooming flowers, conditioning material, how to set a table, and other helpful tips. Reservations for the luncheon must be in by tomorrow. Call Mrs. Charles Tranter at 723-7593.

WIGS AND WIGLETS, those coveted accoutrements to high fashion in the world of beauty today, were the top prizes awarded in the Diet Pepsi Beauty Stakes promotion. In this area, according to James Van Tilburg, sales manager for the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Jamestown, on those special dress-up occasions, full wigs may now be donned by Mrs. Frederick Massa of 502 Look-out street, Warren, and Mrs. M. E. Dreyer of Jamestown, N.Y. The two who will enhance their own crowning glory with wiglets for the special times when an added touch of elegance is desired, are Ruth Wilcox of Pittsfield and Mrs. William E. Brooker of 1923 Pennsylvania ave. E., Warren. Cases of Diet Pepsi are going to Jean Noel and Mrs. R. H. Port of Warren, and Marylou McKinney of Youngsville.

THE JOHN TRAUFFERS of 121 Grant street, have returned from a ten-day visit with their son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. David R. Trauffer of Brentwood, Long Island, N.Y. The Rev. Trauffer is pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in that community, and is also the Protestant chaplain at Pilgrim State Hospital in West Brentwood. The Trauffers made the trip by plane, leaving from the Bradford Air Port and landing at La Guardia.

MINIATURES: The 1 o'clock Club is having a buffet luncheon meeting next Monday at the YWCA. Mary Donovan, 726-0628, is accepting reservations for you and a friend at $1.25 per person. Donna Pimgrey, Y-Teen Department head, is to give the program. And, apropos that hint for making jewels sparkle in yesterday's paper — I have a better and quicker one good for diamonds — use tooth paste and a soft toothbrush, dry and buff with tissue paper!

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The teen-agers here in Memphis think you are tuned in to our world like no other adult. You must get a ton of mail from teen-agers or you must talk to a lot of kids because you really have the word. Just to keep you posted I am sending a copy of a questionnaire that has been floating around our high school. Nobody knows for sure where this thing got started, but the kids in my crowd, both guys and dolls, think it's pretty good.

I would like your opinion of this questionnaire and I know you will level. Please don't suggest I take it home and get my mother's views. If she saw it she would faint, and we'd have to call the doctor. Here it is:

KNOW THYSELF QUESTIONNAIRE

(Score the number indicated for each "Yes" answer.)

1. Ever gone out with a member of the opposite sex?.....4

DEAR N AND D: I can't evaluate this questionnaire because each questionnaire should be evaluated on the basis of the individual scoring. Let me say it's darned interesting (though somewhat gamey) and I appreciate your sending it to me.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents ... If you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Halls Of Ivy

Among those named to the Dean's List for the last semester at Villa Maria College in Erie, is Rita K. Hessley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Hessley, 116 Dartmouth street. Miss Hessley is in her junior year of studies and is majoring in Chemistry.

Linda Gruber, a freshman year student, majoring in Business Education, at the University of Pittsburgh's Bradford Campus, has been named to the Dean's List for the winter trimester. To obtain this honor students must achieve an average of 3.25 or higher. Miss Gruber is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gruber of Sugar Grove.

Robert H. Donaldson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert D. Donaldson of 819 Pleasant Drive, has been elected as the president of next year's junior class at Findlay College, Findlay, Ohio.

Among twenty-nine freshmen at The Pennsylvania State University, graduates of twenty-seven different high schools, who have been exempted from the basic course in English composition is included the name of Catherine M. Sterley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sterley of 108 Duncan Blvd., a graduate of Warren Area High School.

Dr. Henry W. Sams, professor and head of the department of English in informing the high schools of the achievements of their graduates, said their exemption reflects well on the preparation the students received in secondary school.

MRS. ROBERT ARCHER COLMAN
(Kofod Studio)

Jamestown Church Setting

For Davis-Sanchez Wedding

MRS. MANUEL VINCENT SANCHEZ JR.
(Talcott Studio)

Kathleen Eloise Davis and Manuel Vincent Sanchez Jr. exchanged wedding vows in the First Covenant Church, Jamestown, N.Y., on Saturday, May 6. The candlelight double ring nuptial service was performed by the Rev. Robert Anderson, pastor of the church, in the presence of one hundred and seventy-five guests.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Harold Johnson, soloist, and Lorin Hunt at the organ. The seven branched candelabra highlighted altar arrangements of ferns and foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis of 119 Collax street, Jamestown, N.Y., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sanchez of Miami, Florida.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown of white satin with empire waist and satin bodice with an overlay of lace. Her train fell in graceful folds from a bow at the back waistline. Her shoulder length veil depended from a pillbox of lace. The bridal bouquet was a tapering arrangement of white jewel roses and miniature carnations.

Mrs. Winston Davis, the sister-in-law of the bride, of Rochester, N.Y., was the matron of honor in a gown of apricot linen and pillbox hat. She carried a bouquet of white and apricot daisies tied with green velvet. Costumed identically were the bridesmaids, Miss Cynthia Swanson, cousin of the bride, and Miss Marilyn Anderson of Cleveland, Ohio, also a cousin of the bride. The flower girl, Mistress Amy Pearson, cousin of the bride, was dressed similarly and wore a bow in her hair. She carried a basket of yellow roses and white daisies.

The best man was Winston

Davis, brother of the bride from Rochester, N.Y., and ushers were Tyler Swanson, cousin of the bride, Robert Buchner, Daryl Swanson, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Aides were Miss Sonja Bergquist, Miss Marcia Lenna, Miss Debra Swanson, Mrs. Stanley Swanson, Mrs. Harold Swanson, Mrs. Elwood Carlson and Miss Ann Trass who managed the guest book. Master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Swanson.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Canada after the reception. They will travel to Florida on July 1. Since their return from Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Sanchez are residing at 78 Forest avenue, Jamestown, N.Y.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Jamestown High School and was employed in the unit control office of Sears, Roebuck and Company. The groom, a 1964 graduate of Jamestown High School is employed at Jamestown Container Corporation.

HELP FOR MOTHER TERESA CALCUTTA India (AP) — Mother Teresa, whom the sick and helpless in Eastern India call "our own mother" has recently received six vans from Caritas Internationalis for her work. Handing over the vans at a ceremony in Calcutta U.S. Consul-General William Hitchcock said Catholics all over the world contributed to help purchase the vans. The vehicles were imported free of duties under a U.S.-India agreement. They will be used by Mother Teresa in six of the 20 homes she runs in India for the destitute and the sick, especially leprosy.

Penelope G. Morgan Bride

Of The Rev. Robert Coleman

The First Presbyterian Church was the setting for the double ring wedding service which united in marriage Penelope Granger Morgan and the Reverend Robert Archer Colman on Saturday, May 6. The afternoon service began at 2:30 o'clock, with the Reverend Donald H. Spencer, pastor of the church, officiating in the presence of five hundred wedding guests.

Carroll A. Fowler, organist, played selections by Johann Sebastian Bach before the service and for the processional "Trumpet Tune in D Major" by Purcell and the "Bridal Chorus" by Wagner. For the recessional he played "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn, and "Psalm XIX" by Marcello. Vocal soloist was Robert Dietrich with the Sanctuary Choir under the direction of Mr. Fowler. Assisting with the floral arrangements for the church were Mrs. Merle Miticham and Quinn Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norman Charles Morgan of 10 Forest avenue, Chautauqua, N.Y., and the groom is the son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Colman of 159 Chapin street, Binghamton, New York.

Escorted on the arm of her father, the bride approached the altar in a gown of white slipper satin, princess style, with long sleeves; the long bell skirt and square train, which fell in regal style from the shoulders, had bands of the lace. Her bouffant fingertip veil was secured by a headband and she carried a spray of white roses. The bride's gown was fashioned by her mother.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Wood, sister of the groom, from Orchard Park, N.Y., and the maid of honor was Miss Janice Nicodemus of Chicago, Ill. Bridesmaids were Miss Althea Harty of Buffalo, N.Y., Miss Linda McKelvey of Warren, Miss Anne Unverzagt of Ben Avon, Pennsylvania, and Miss Sharon Bedford of Detroit, Michigan. All wore full length dresses of lime green with spring flower headresses, matching bouquets. The flower girl, Mistress Catherine Anne Morgan, sister of the bride, was in a gown of white embroidered nylon and carried a basket of spring flowers.

Best man for his brother was the Rev. David B. Colman of Detroit, and ushers were the Rev. Joseph H. Black of Princeton, Samuel Colman of Binghamton, N.Y., brother of the groom, Richard K. Helmbrecht of East Lansing, Michigan, Murray K. McComas, Christopher H. Morgan and Vincent L. Morgan, brothers of the bride, and the Rev. Kenneth N. Wood of Orchard Park, N.Y.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of beige silk with an orchid corsage, and the mother of the groom selected a green silk dress with matching coat and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Frank M. Morgan of Hanover, New Hampshire, grandmother of the bride, was remembered with a corsage of roses.

A reception, held in Fellowship Hall at the church, was served by the Woman's Association of the church under the direction of Mrs. Vance Weld.

For traveling the bride chose a dress of green silk with matching accessories.

The new Mrs. Colman is a Warren Area High School graduate, and a graduate of the University of Michigan. She is now working for her Master's degree in Art and Education at John Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md. The Rev. Colman, a graduate of Westminster College and Princeton Theological Seminary, is presently studying for his Master's degree in Theology at Princeton University, Princeton, N.J.

The rehearsal dinner was given by parents of the groom, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Colman.

Guests from out of town attended from New Hampshire; Ohio; New Jersey; New York City; Massachusetts; Lima, Peru; Edinburgh, Scotland; New Mexico; Washington, D.C.; Connecticut; Maryland; and in Pennsylvania from Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Indiana and Seneca.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE

We used to be in the laundry business and here is a little hint I would like to pass along to women who cannot get the soiled line out of their husband's shirt collars.

We removed these by rubbing a little ammonia on the collars before putting them in the washing machine. We particularly like the sudsy kind. We did not find that it hurt the material or caused fading.

A Fan

It also helps prevent this line on shirt collars. If men will pour some rubbing alcohol on a wash cloth and rub their neck with it ever so often. (Your own neck not the shirt's!)

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE

A thin ring of nail polish painted on the plastic end of the "up" cord on venetian blinds ends annoyance. It's so easy to distinguish the right cord to raise the blind without having to pull both of them. Sure has helped my disposition.

V L M

DEAR HELOISE

You requested hints about twins.

This is such a marvelous idea that we are sorry we didn't think of it for our two older children.

Instead of hiring someone to come in during the day, we have a woman come in at night to take care of our babies.

That way we can get a good night's sleep and can then manage just fine during the day.

A Little Ammonia

Lyn, you are the smartest... Bet not many new parents had thought of this. Bless you and your little ones!

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE

No place to put your plastic place mats?

I hang mine on the kitchen wall.

Just cut a small hole with a razor blade, or punch one with a paper punch in each mat.

Surround the hole on both sides with notebook reinforcements, using an all-purpose glue.

Not only does it save drawer space or get them off the table but they look attractive hanging on my kitchen wall.

Marge Ritenhouse

DEAR HELOISE

As a Navy wife I receive quite a bit of mail from my husband. Often several letters at one time that have the same post mark date.

We have found a way to let each other know which one was written first.

We simply add the date the letter was written (not mailed) on the back flap of our envelopes.

This way when two or more letters come at one time, we can tell which one was written first without having to open them all.

Couple Exchange Wedding Vows In Candlelight Nuptial Service

A candlelight service in the Clymer Hill Reformed Church, recently united in marriage Miss Dianne K. Damcott and Lynn W. Elnink. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Damcott of Clymer; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Elnink, of North Clymer. The Rev. Robert O. Shaver officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms, ferns, baskets of white gladioli and lilies. Candelabra with lighted tapers completed the adornment of the altar. Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Dianne Heslin, vocalist, and Miss Marjorie Smith, organist.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza and taffeta styled with modified scoop neckline, long sleeves, and a sheath skirt. A sleeveless coat of the organza formed a regal court train. Her veil of pure silk illusion was attached to a double crown of the lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss June Damcott was maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Nancy Cole and Mrs. Roger Elnink. All wore floor length gowns of mint green shantashik with matching coats, with matching tulle hair bows with circular veils. They carried bouquets of yellow pompons and yellow roses.

Julie Sperry was flower girl in a mint green frock patterned the same as those of the bride's attendants, carrying a basket of yellow roses and pom-pons. Maynard Damcott Jr. was ring bearer. Roger Elnink was best man for his brother, and ushers were Ronald Damcott, brother of the bride, and Dale Crockett, cousin of the bridegroom. The bridegroom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner which was held in the church parlors. The bride was graduated from Sherman Central School and Jamestown Business College. She is employed at the Bank of Jamestown. Her husband, a Clymer Central School graduate, attended Iowa Central College. He is employed at North Clymer Agway, and is a member of the U.S. Naval Reserve. The newlyweds are now residing on the Clymer-Sherman Road, following a wedding trip to the Thousand Islands and upper New York State.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠
An accurate assessment of his opponent's distribution provided South with the clue that proved essential to the success of his three no trump contract.

West led the jack of diamonds and the queen was played from dummy, holding the trick. South had eight top tricks—two spades, three hearts, one diamond, and two clubs—with a prospect for scoring the ninth in either one of the major suits. He must be careful to keep East out of the lead; however, since West is marked with the ace of diamonds and a lead thru declarer's king might enable the opposition to cash enough tricks to defeat him.

South led a small spade from dummy at trick two, and when East followed with the deuce, the seven was played from the closed hand. Declarer was willing to let West in for, if the latter led another diamond, it must establish declarer's king.

West won the spade lead with the ten and returned a small heart. Declarer cashed the three high hearts, and East discarded a diamond on the third round, revealing that West had the jack of hearts, as a stopper in the suit.

A spade was led to dummy's king and when West dropped the jack, South was confronted with a choice of plays. He could lead a spade to the ace, trying for a three-three split; or, if he decided that East held both remaining spades, he could take a finesse against the queen.

Before making a decision, South searched for additional evidence. The king and ace of clubs were cashed as everyone followed suit. Since West was presumed to have at least four diamonds, and the sequence of plays had revealed for certain that he held four hearts, two spades, and now two clubs, all but one of the cards in West's hand had been accounted for.

Declarer led the dummy's remaining spade and when East played the six, South covered with the nine. If the finesse lost to the queen, West would be down to nothing but red cards and must eventually surrender the fulfilling trick to South's king of diamonds.

When declarer's nine of spades held the trick, he cashed the ace and then exited with his last heart. West was in, and after taking the ace of diamonds, his forced return permitted South to score an overtrick with the king of diamonds.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—An average day in many ways, but some new situations and trends are in the making, so discretion will be a "must." You will have some chances to advance, but do note that pitfalls also exist.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Take a second look before accepting new ideas or unusual propositions. Don't waste time and energy pursuing a will of the wisp. Be especially careful about suggestions where finances are involved.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—This day calls for careful evaluations of all situations. The wrong move could cause a setback, but the right one could put you well in advance of schedule and bring you extra bonuses.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—You may run into snags or obstacles, but you can handle them ably—as usual. Aim for the top! Even if you don't reach it now, you'll be well on your way. Some tact needed in dealings with the opposite sex.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Trend is toward the unusual. Properly handled, this can be profitable. Usual routine must be followed where necessary, of course, but even this can be "pepped up" with a new method, a better perspective on its importance.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Mixed influences, but be enthusiastic, nevertheless, and you can net fine returns. Be selective in activities, associates.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Planetary aspects extremely generous. Especially favored: Artistic pursuits, domestic interests, travel. Make the most of a fine day!

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Give yourself a pep talk to start this day off right. Be realistic about its needs and lose no time in planning for them. Just one admonition: Avoid a tendency to lose temper, get into unnecessary hassles.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Recipe for this day's success: Cut red tape, eliminate non-essentials from your program and coordinate your efforts with those whose interests are similar to your own. Be careful not to overlook small, but important details, however.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Mixed planetary influences. Stress accuracy, tolerance; follow suitable tactics, worthwhile goals. With such a program, day's many good things will come to light.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—A fine outlook! You can make new records now. Don't spread yourself thin, but do keep the ball rolling.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Your ingenuity, foresight and intuition should be at a peak now. A good time to look into new offerings and gauge their real value.

YOU BORN TODAY are roundly talented and eager to learn, but must learn to curb a tendency to procrastinate. Determination, faithfulness to duties, deep love of family, liveliness and artistic taste are outstanding Taurean traits. Too anxious at times, careless at others, you MUST learn self-mastery. The higher aims should be yours for your mind is geared to far-reaching accomplishment. Birthdate of: Irving Berlin, composer; Salvador Dali, surrealist artist.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

TELLING THE TRUTH ABOUT CANCER

Fear is experienced by almost everyone on learning he or she has cancer. Even those with a localized and curable malignancy are shocked on hearing the diagnosis. Some persons, including physicians and surgeons, have been known to panic. Therefore, the doctor tells the truth on an individual basis.

The majority quiet down after the initial shock is over, especially when the situation is explained. At first anxiety is understandable because most of us dread cancer. Physicians are compassionate, and their reluctance to avoid the word is understandable. The victim may anticipate extensive surgery and the possibility of disfigurement and loss of vital organs. Some are worried about becoming a burden to the family or not being able to earn a living.

An air of optimism prevails once the initial shock passes and the hopeful signs are stressed. It is true that cancers are more prevalent, but many persons are being cured as a result of improved surgery and radiation therapy. Earlier detection and treatment when the cancer is localized are common. There is reason for hope when the goal is to cure or arrest the disease.

Many people want to know the truth. It helps when discussing their cancer with the physician and family. Others refuse to accept the "bad news" even when the diagnosis is clearly established.

When the tumor returns and the individual knows it, the situation changes. No longer is the illness discussed, especially when the individual is sensitive about revealing his anxieties. He becomes passive and concerned about being abandoned. Regular visits from significant persons help to diminish this feeling of desertion.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request. TOMORROW: Replacement for the Gallbladder.

STARTLE RESPONSE

A reader writes: Please tell me why some people jerk or jump when someone comes up from behind. Some say it is nerves or a guilty conscience.

REPLY
These people are ultrasensitive. The jumpers of Maine are the best examples of this reaction. They not only jump, but get angry when someone comes up from behind and says "boo!" One man leaped out of bed so readily when the night train tooted thru town that he repeatedly struck his wife in the eye. Sixteen black eyes later, he had to sleep in another room.

CHILD SMOKER
J. C. writes: How can I make my 11-year-old brother stop smoking?

REPLY
It is difficult unless he can be motivated to do so. Hasn't your brother heard that smoking will stunt the growth, cause halitosis, or make him shortwinded? If he were older, he might consider heart attacks and cancer of the lung.

NOSE BOB
J. L. F. writes: I have a big nose about which I have become very self-conscious. What can be done about it, and how much would it cost? I am 19 years old.

REPLY
The best remedy is plastic surgery. Medicare is a long way off for you, so discuss the fee with the surgeon.

Production Staff Busy Readying for Mary, Mary

The behind-the-scenes activity for Warren Players Club's production of "Mary, Mary" has required a large and efficient Production Staff to prepare the popular comedy for its opening curtain Friday evening.

Producer of the show is Isabelle Molinaro who, as a senior at Warren Area High School, is probably the youngest Producer in the long history of the Club. Miss Molinaro began to assemble her production crew weeks ago when rehearsals first began and their work will continue through and after the staging of "Mary, Mary's" two performances this weekend.

Those who have assisted in the physical preparation of the show include: Stage Manager, Donald Withing; Set Construction, John Jay Williams; Stage Props, Dave Stoudnour; Hand Props, Sandy Wilkinson; Kevin Lantz and Rachel Kronenwetter; Stage and Lighting Committee, Charles Bigelow, Bill Buellhart III, Allen Ryberg, Bill Blanks and John Churchill.

Others in vital roles backstage on opening night will be: Costumes, Anne Putnam; Bookholder, Lydia Espin; Make-up Committee, Edith O'Hara, Gail Barker and Rich Hines. Margaret Barrett has arranged for ushers for both performances and Murray McCormas is directing publicity. Box Office arrangements have been the responsibility of Meredith Johnson who is receiving phone reservations from those desiring to attend either the Friday or Saturday night performance. Reserved seats are still available and may be obtained by phoning the Players Club at 723-1870 any evening this week between 7:30 and 9:00.

Following the Saturday night show, members of the cast and crew and other active Players Club members will gather for the cast party in the Club room above the K of C. Serving on the Social Committee are: Evadna Andersen, Lois Byham, Joe Scalise, Neil Ingols, and Phyllis Stroudnour.

Thursday's TV Movies

WHO IS NUMBER 4A ON THE COMMISSIONER BALLOT?

Do we really want peace?

We talk about it, plan for it, and hope it will come into our lives.

But, are we willing to work for peace in our own hearts — where real peace must be won? Christian Science teaches that a healing, satisfying peace can be found if we are willing to find for ourselves the spiritual peace that comes from God.

Hear a public lecture called "Peace is Individual" by ROY J. LINNIG, C.S., an experienced Christian Science practitioner. Admission is free, everyone is welcome.

The economy continued to slow down this week, but unemployment remained at a steady low level, the Labor Department announced on Tuesday. But the Commerce Department reported retail sales slipped sharply downward, upsetting the applecart of prosperity in that area predicted in the middle of March.

For the nation, the unemployment figure was 3.7 per cent of the labor force, the same level that has prevailed since December. In Pennsylvania, a gain of 20,600 jobs was noted in March, sending the state's total of employed persons up to 4,599,000 about 49,400 ahead of last year. The job gain was described as seasonal in nature, but it tended to follow the trend set nationally. Unemployment in the Keystone state went down to 172,000, compared to 178,000 for the previous March. The unemployment rate in Pennsylvania went from 3.8 per cent in March, 1966 to 3.6 per cent for this year.

Nonmanufacturing industries brought an increase of 76,500 while manufacturing industries added 8,400. The biggest single gain again was registered in government employment, which added 29,400 jobs throughout the state.

In Warren, employment remained nearly static over the past 60 days with the April number of employed persons at 17,900, compared to 18,000 in February. But this year's April was 400 above that of last year. Unemployment went to 500 persons from 300 persons in April 1966. This April's unemployment figure was the same as February's. The gain in Warren County during April: nonmanufacturing, which includes government employment, soaring from 8,200 to 8,800 in a year.

Specialists at Penn State University released on Monday their report on industrial output in the nation, noting that Pennsylvania received little benefit from the improvement noted general from February to March. Total industrial hours worked in the state in March were disappointing, showing little gain over the decline noted in February. Employment gains were weak for the month, the analysts said and factory payrolls failed to regain the level maintained for several months before the February decline. Steel was produced in smaller quantities because of slow orders, largely in the automobile industry. Coal used in the steel industry, also dropped. Industrial power sales fell to the lowest point in nine months. Contract construction failed to meet seasonal expectations, and the increase in non-farm employment was smaller than is customary at this time of the year. Factory layoffs were substantial, but nonfactory industries came near seasonal expectations.

In compiling first-quarter income and sales information, the Penn State analysts last week found that measures taken to curb the 1966 economic boom have been effective. The slowdown was described as sudden and extensive, surprising even Administration figures who worked to achieve that result. Industrial production in the state dropped 2 per cent and corporate profits were down 7 per cent. The gross national product rose only $5 billion, compared to $14 billion in the last quarter of 1966 and $17 billion for the first quarter of last year. The slowdown brought a quick reversal of policy to reapply some stimulus to the economy, perhaps one reason for the release of federal funds for highway and other capital improvement projects. Easier money and lower interest rates, seem to be in the offing in the wake of the new data.

CONFETTI — Allegheny Airlines reported a net loss of $656,000 for the first quarter, a drop of 36 cents a share; the adjusted figure is $181,000 or 10 cents a share, with the company nearing the peak of its heavy investment in new equipment, particularly jetliners. . . Blackstone Corp. of Jamestown with offices in Sheffield, opened its multi-million dollar foundry in Clito, Ga., on Friday. . . Dresser Clark of Bradford and Olean plans major expansion and modernization of its Bradford plant, which manufactures machine tools, among other items. . . Erie Forge and Steel Co. may be sold to a New York based firm, the Erie Times reported yesterday, saying Roblin Steel and Erie Forge should exchange stock today.

Prices on Market Continue to Fall

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — Stock prices fell again yesterday but the decline was less than Tuesday's sharp setback.

On the New York Stock Exchange 648 stocks declined in price, while 593 closed unchanged. New highs for 1967 were posted by 57 issues and 18 set new lows. Trading eased to 10,41 million shares, against 10,83 million Tuesday.

The Dow Jones Industrial average was off 5.79 points to 894.10, but — as of Tuesday — most of the decline could be traced to weakness in a handful of stocks. Drops in five issues, Anaconda, Du Pont, General Motors, Owens-Illinois and Sears Roebuck, accounted for about 4.4 points of the drop. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index finished at 93.35 for a loss of a quarter of a point. Standard & Poor's railroad index gained 0.23 to 46.67.

The New York Stock Exchange composite index lost 0.09 to close at 51.31. The New York Times combined average of 50 industrial and railroad issues was down 3.74 to 527.29.

On the American Stock Exchange the index of stock prices rose 9 cents to $18.47, not quite half-way back from Tuesday's drop. Of the 916 issues traded 372 advanced and 324 declined. Turnover came to 4,226,733 shares compared with 4,299,575 traded Tuesday.

Allegheny Hits Record

Allegheny Airlines posted an all-time monthly record during April by boarding nearly 205,600 passengers, topping the former mark of 202,304 set August 1966 during the nationwide strike against five major airlines.

April's record represented a more than 25 per cent increase

The Over-the-Counter market was mixed.

On the big board the volume leader, First Charter Financial, closed unchanged at 24 1/2. Most of its 240,500-share activity was in a single block of 194,200 shares, which changed hands at 24.

Another large block was 61,000 shares of Sperry Rand, which was sold at 32. The heavily traded issue again appeared on the most-active list — in fourth place on turnover 143,100 shares — and added 1/2 to close at 32 1/2.

Interest continued in Kern County Land, which was fifth most active on volume of 128,100 shares. It rose 1/2 to 81 1/2.

This was less than two points below the 83 1/2 than Occidental Petroleum announced it would offer for 500,000 Kern County shares.

Occidental climbed 1 1/2 to 58 1/2 on volume of 98,700 shares, which made it the seventh most-active issue.

Montgomery Ward, the subject of recent takeover rumors, was ninth most-active on trading of 89,300 shares, and it added 1 1/2 to close at 31 1/2.

The only stock on the most-active list that closed with a loss was General Development, which was in 10th place with volume of 84,800 shares. It

Pennsylvania Third in War Dead

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Now after more than six years of battle the states may know how many of their sons have fallen in the Vietnam war.

The first tabulation of dead by states, released Tuesday by the Pentagon, shows California has lost the most men, followed by New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Ohio.

The breakdown, involving the names of 7,823 servicemen killed by the enemy in Southeast Asia between Jan. 1, 1961 and March 1, 1967, was made available by a new computer operation.

Fed a mass of cards and forms, the computer in its first run listed California Vietnam battle fatalities at 683, New York 529, Pennsylvania 483, Texas 412 and Ohio 388.

Nine other states have lost 200 or more men in action. Thirteen are listed with 100 or more killed in the fighting.

Each of the 23 other states has lost men in the conflict.

The basis used in this statistical breakdown, the Pentagon said, is the serviceman's stated home of record on his personnel form.

In the vast majority of cases this is the individual's birthplace, although some servicemen may list other places considered to be their home or where their primary next of kin live.

As of last week, 9,407 U.S. servicemen had died at enemy hands in Southeast Asia.

In addition there have been 1,956 deaths listed as "not the result of actions by hostile forces" — meaning plane crashes, truck wrecks, explosions and fires and other non-combat causes.

The computerization offers a broad statistical picture of the men who have died in the war, in ground action, on the sea and in the air.

For example, the preponderance of combat deaths falls at age 20, a total of 1,331. Another 1,226 have been killed at age 21, and 893 at age 22.

The age breakout continues up to a 41-and-older listing of 81. A total of 128 18-year-olds have perished in battle.

One 17-year-old was killed but a Defense Department directive now prohibits assignments at this age in the war zone except in ships off Vietnam.

Of the 7,823 combat dead as of last Feb. 28, 6,873 were enlisted men, the remainder officers.

Warren Electric Coop Sets Meet

The 28th annual meeting of the Warren Electric Cooperative will be held Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Youngsville High School auditorium. The business portion of the meeting will be followed by Jack Dunigan, the popular Jamestown, N. Y., radio personality who will present entertainment for the "family reunion" style affair which every year draws hundreds of members and non-members from all parts of the five-county area served by the cooperative.

Robert English will be featured at the organ — several long time employees will be honored and a good time will be had by all.

There will be frequent awarding of prizes to the members and after the meeting a lunch will be served by the Bethlehem Covenant Church Christian Fellowship in the school cafeteria.

All members of the Cooperative are urged to attend the meeting exercise their voting privilege and bring their families to enjoy the program. The general public is also invited.

Tourist Groups Receive Payment

Nine tourist promotion agencies in Pennsylvania received $38,451 in matching funds from the state Department of Commerce this week.

Clarion County Recreation Council received $2,368. Others receiving payments were Mercer County, Lake Wallenpaupack in Pike County, Pittsburgh Convention Bureau ($21,791), Columbia County, the North-South Shortway Association, Carbon County, Chester County, and the Central Susquehanna Valley Chamber of Commerce.

The matching funds help pay for promotional programs, advertising, and other activities aimed at increasing the volume of tourist, visitor, and vacation business. There are 57 tourist agencies in the 65 counties represented to the Department of Commerce, which distributes an annual appropriation of $600,000 through the Travel Development Bureau.

New Sewage Act Combats Pollution

Both the general public and the state's municipalities will benefit from new regulations passed by the Advisory Health Board to implement Pennsylvania's "Sewage Facilities Act".

The regulations were adopted this week to implement the new law which takes effect July 1.

Purpose of the law is to prevent water pollution and other public health hazards which stem from inadequate and poorly planned sewerage systems. Under the law, municipalities are responsible for planning for adequate sewerage facilities to meet both current and future needs.

They will submit plans to the State Health Department showing:

—Where public sewerage systems are located at the present time.

—Where municipalities plan to extend public sewerage systems in the next ten years.

—Where soil conditions are suitable for the installation of on-lot or individual sewerage systems.

Problems often have developed from the lack of planned sewerage systems and the construction of individual on-lot sewerage disposal systems in areas where they would malfunction. In porous soils such as limestone for example, sewage can seep into wells and contaminate drinking water.

Adequate planning will not only insure against such malfunctions but will prevent the added expenses incurred when home owners must connect to a municipal sewerage system often paying for an on-lot system.

"By planning for adequate sewerage facilities in areas where population expansion is expected, municipalities can offer the home builder an efficient, modern sewerage system as an incentive to build in their area," Dr. Thomas W. Georges Jr., State Health Secretary said.

"In the long run, this is certain to improve the environment in the state's communities and thus bring more industries and people to Pennsylvania."

Dr. Georges added that by surveying the present location of its sewerage system, a municipality may find it is able to readily extend its service within the municipality and may also find it is able to provide service to neighboring municipalities.

He stressed that the law places the initiative for its implementation—including both planning and enforcement—with the individual municipality.

He said that the Department of Health is prepared to assist municipalities in carrying out these responsibilities through financing, training and consultation.

Complying with the new law need not be a detailed gigantic task according to Dr. Georges.

"We're interested only in general comprehensive planning for the municipality," he said.

"Detail is not necessarily important. We are interested in meeting our current sewerage needs and in knowing in what areas population growth is expected. Only then can the municipality begin to plan for the orderly development of adequate sewerage facilities."

Dr. Georges pointed out that the state will pay up to half the cost for developing the official plans. In addition, federal monies have been made available through the Federal Housing Administration and the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

An advisory committee composed of 25 state-wide organizations, including home builders and municipalities, will assist in implementing the law. The group stems from a committee appointed three years ago to study the sewerage problem in the state and develop needed legislation.

A copy of the official rules and regulations will be available in mid-June and may be obtained by writing the Pennsylvania Department of Health, P. O. Box 90, Harrisburg.

Bomb Scare Reported At Penn State Campus

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—The Willard building on the Pennsylvania State University campus, which houses an administrative unit and classrooms, was evacuated without incident during the noon hour yesterday after an anonymous telephone report that a bomb had been planted.

The highest point in the United States is Mount McKinley in Alaska. The lowest point is Death Valley Calif.

Meat Prices On Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — Meat prices jumped this week. It may be a long summer before consumers see price tags as low as those last winter.

Prices on the live cattle and hog markets the past two weeks have soared. Midwestern farmers, busy with spring chores, have been shipping smaller supplies to market.

A New York supermarket chain raised pork chop prices 10 cents a pound this week. Pork cuts are generally 2 cents a pound higher on the West Coast.

Beef prices are up 1 to 3 cents a pound along the West Coast. Rib roasts may be on special in the Midwest.

Chicken prices are down 14 cents a pound in the New York area. Broilers, fryers and turkeys may be featured in the Northeast, Midwest and Southwest.

Egg prices are up 1 cent a dozen in San Francisco and Portland, Ore., this week, and medium-sized eggs are 2 cents higher at a major chain in the New York area. But prices still are low, and eggs are being promoted heavily at many stores.

Some canners have raised the price of orange juice, in the wake of the drought in Florida. April was a washout in California. Tomato plantings had to be put off, and the combination of rains, frost and the worst hail damage in recent years cut the raisin crop an estimated 10 to 20 per cent. Apricots look poor, peaches are two weeks late, and prunes suffered some damage.

"BUT WHY CAN'T WE PLANT A JUNGLE?"

Russell Scouting News Events

Den 1's eight boys started their meeting with a game of leap frog. They discussed their plans for the Circus Pack meeting. Den Chief Allan Swanson called the roll and took dues. The Cubs pantomimed circus words and closed with the song "I Got That Cub Scout Spirit". Jeff Andersen treated the boys with caramel apples he had made for an elective.

Den 2 worked on their circus project for the Pack meet which will be held on May 18.

Den 3 opened their meeting with the Denner leading the group in the salute and pledge of Allegiance. A balloon contest was held with Bren Lindell and Danny Johnson the winners. Mrs. Johnson, the Den Mother explained the May theme "Cub Scout Circus" and they practiced their circus skit for the Pack meet. The Cubs achieved several physical fitness activities. Closing thought: It takes 72 muscles to frown, 14 to smile; so smile and rest your face. The meeting closed with Living Circle and Law of the Pack.

The Webelos Den met at the Firehall at 1:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon and collected a truck load of litter and debris on the old Route 62. Thanks to Edwin Branstrom who furnished the truck and disposed of the debris, also to Boy Scouts

Charles Motz, Mike English and Lynn Edwards who helped.

On Saturday May 13 the Webelos will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul Motz the leader, at 11:00 a.m. for a hike on The Big Four Road to the Museum on Conewango ave. All the boys are asked to carry their lunch and a canteen. Parents are also welcome to go if they care to.

On Saturday May 27 the Webelos will play host to their parents, the boys coming into the Den in September and their parents and families of these boys. A tureen picnic supper at 6:00 p.m. at the home of Den Mother Mrs. Motz. Each family to bring a tureen and their table service. Coffee and pop will be furnished. For further information call TORONTO (AP) — A questionnaire being distributed to Jewish families in metropolitan Toronto asks for the names of Nazi exterminationists not yet brought to justice. The campaign is headed by Tuvia Friedman, an Israeli who helped track down Adolf Eichmann, who was executed after trial in Israel. About 20 per cent of Toronto's 200,000 Jews lived in Europe when World War II began.

Penn Bank & Trust Plans Told

TITUSVILLE — The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Company met here yesterday and announced a 50 cent dividend for the second quarter.

This dividend is the same as was paid last year in the same quarter. More actual dollars will be distributed this time because of the five per cent stock dividend voted by the stockholders in January.

Directors of the bank were informed that the proposed merger of the bank with National Bank of Union City has been approved by the FDIC as of April 25. It will probably be completed May 31.

Also announced were two promotions. Gordon A. Fogle of Pleasantville was made vice president of the bank and manager of the Pleasantville Branch of the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Company. He had formerly been vice president of the Pleasantville branch.

Robert A. Lamenskie of Titusville, head teller for many years, was promoted to the position of assistant treasurer of the bank.

Statement of Policy of the Magistrates Association of Warren County With Respect to Referendum And Amendments Submitted to the Electorate At The Primary Election on May 16, 1967.

The Magistrates Association of Warren County are unalterably opposed to the holding of a Limited Constitution Convention called in accordance with and subject to the limitations and requirements contained in Act No. 2 of the 1967 Session of the General Assembly. We support and defend the proposition that the Constitution of Pennsylvania should only be amended on an article-by-article basis submitted to the electorate under the system provided by our present Constitution. We want better local government, not its elimination; we want elected local and county government officials not appointed officials; we are convinced that a Constitutional Convention with limited powers convened at an exorbitant expense to the taxpayers will recommend these unwanted changes which will forever destroy home rule in Pennsylvania.

Extension Service Sets Area Meeting on Alfalfa Weevil

THAT'S THE SIZE OF IT

County Agent Bernard Wingert displays a small vial containing specimens of half-inch alfalfa weevil worms which are a threat to Warren County farms. (Photo by Hoff)

County Extension Agent Bernard Wingert has arranged for Lloyd Adams, entomologist from Penn State University, to conduct a meeting on control of the alfalfa weevil.

The session will be held at Dodd Farms, RD 2, Corry, at 8 p.m. today.

"Don't bother to change clothes—just get in your car when the evening work is done and come," Wingert said.

Warren County has been fortunate in the past, explains Wingert, in having practically no infestation of the alfalfa weevil. However, last year a few farmers in this area experienced some difficulty with this damaging insect. They were compelled to spray to combat this pest.

"It is a serious question whether there ever would be a severe infestation this year," says Wingert, "yet, proper measures in advance will prevent the weevil from destroying the crop if it should suddenly appear."

Asked about this insect, Wingert explains it has a one-generation cycle a year. Adult weevils, which winter over, lay eggs in the spring. The larvae is a small green worm, a half-inch long. It hatches from the eggs, and causes great damage to alfalfa.

The worm then goes into its pupa, or cocoon stage, and becomes an adult, to complete the life cycle. Many adults go into summer hibernation, and leave the alfalfa fields. A very few, however, return to the fields and lay eggs in the fall, although the majority do this in the spring. For this reason spring weather has important bearing on the egg-laying pattern. A

METHODISTS LOSE MEMBERS
LONDON (AP)—The Methodist Church in England is losing about 10,000 members a year, according to Dr. Leslie Davison, secretary of the Methodist Home Missions Department, who calls his church "the helpless victim of social revolution."

Dr. Davison says the current mobility of the population means that local churches tend to be left to the leadership of the retired and elderly and make little impact on newcomers.

He hopes the proposed reunion of the Methodist Church with the Church of England will enable both bodies to arrange their manpower and finances to better advantage.

cold delayed spring like we are experiencing at the moment causes the alfalfa weevil egg-laying period to extend over a much longer than normal period in a warm spring.

"There is no danger of contamination when the proper insecticides are used in correct amounts," Wingert observes.

WARNS ABOUT ALFALFA WEEVIL

County Agent Bernard Wingert points to greatly enlarged photo of the alfalfa weevil, which has appeared lately in Warren County. Workshop on pest is scheduled for Dodd Farms, R.D. 2, Corry, 8 p.m. Thursday, May 11, conducted by Lloyd Adams, Penn State entomologist. (Photo by Hoff)

News of Chautauqua

Yehudi Menuhin, Bath Orchestra to Appear

Yehudi Menuhin and the Bath Festival Orchestra will include a program at Chautauqua on its first and very limited tour of America this summer, according to an announcement by Curtis W. Haug, Chautauqua's President and Program Director.

When Menuhin conducts and performs with the Bath Festival Orchestra on Thursday evening,

July 20, in the Chautauqua amphitheater, the audience may well detect some of those personal qualities which have made the artist and the man a legend in his own time.

Other soloists with the orchestra on the program will include his sister, Hephzibah, pianist, who has appeared as an orchestra soloist and in recital throughout the world.

The program selected by Mr. Menuhin and Chautauqua Institution to be played is as follows:

Suite from Theatre Music - Purcell
Little Music for Strings - Goehr
Piano Concerto in B flat, K. 449 - Mozart
Violin Concerto in A Minor - Bach
Symphony No. 49 in F Minor - Haydn.

Chautauqua is very pleased that it is one of the very few places selected in the United States for a program by this outstanding artist and musical group, Mr. Haug added.

After their performance at Chautauqua they will go to the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts in New York City for a series of programs before returning to England.

Mary E. Snyder Back on Faculty

Miss Mary E. Snyder of Pasadena, California, considered one of the nation's outstanding instructors in weaving, will return to the faculty of Chautauqua Institution Summer Schools for the 1967 season.

Classes may be taken either for non-credit or for credit from the Chautauqua Center of Syracuse University, beginning July 3 and continuing throughout the season. A new offering this year will be weekday weaving classes during the month of September, also taught by Miss Snyder.

In addition to daily classes, three-hour workshop classes will be offered on six Thursday evenings. They will include the theory of weaves, design, color and yarns for woven fabrics. These weekly classes will be of value to both the beginning and the advanced weaver.

Miss Snyder has been weaving for over 35 years and has conducted her own weaving school for twenty years. She has studied under Mary M. Atwater and at the Yarn Depot in San Francisco. She organized and taught weaving in the Pasadena Adult Education Program for many years and at Scripps College in Claremont, California. In addition to holding regular classes, courses, and workshops in her studios, she has given lectures and workshop for many clubs and guilds across the country. She has written two books on weaving as well as numerous articles. At present, she is a member of the faculty in the Weaving Department of the University of Kansas.

For free illustrated booklets giving full details about the summer school activity, write to Joseph C. Clarke, Chautauqua Institution, Chautauqua, N.Y. 14722.

New York Must Redistrict

NEW YORK (AP) — A three-judge Federal Court yesterday ordered that the 1968 New York State Legislature create a reapportionment plan for congressional districts to be used in the 1968 Congressional elections.

A special statutory court found a need for more equal districts, in terms of population, in some areas of the state.

It urged that changes be made in conjunction with some of the existing districts "to cure the most flagrant inequalities."

"Let them use any available population figures they can muster; let them divide the state into 41 substantially equal parts, provided they be reasonably compact and contiguous," the judges ordered.

"Let them deliberate as free and independent legislators so long as they do not allow considerations of race, sex, economic status or politics to cross their minds."

The court handed down its opinion on a challenge of the 1961 district law by a Queens

County voter and the Rev. Donald S. Harrington, acting chairman of the state Liberal party.

The plaintiffs complained that the existing districts violated the equal protection of the U.S. Constitution, the Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" concept, and were drawn with "discriminatory partisan political considerations."

The state currently has 41 congressional districts.

Screen Scene

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Said veteran movie flier Paul Mantz: "I'm supposed to be a devil-may-care aviator in helmet and goggles, white scarf whipping back, roaring under bridges, flying through open hangars, deliberately crashing planes into splinters, diving through narrow canyons in search of more and more thrills."

"I've done all that, sure. But I am not a stunt pilot. I'm a precision flier, and I'm alive today to prove it."

Indeed Paul Mantz was a precision flier, and during his lifetime he provided the screen with more aerial thrills than any other pilot. He walked away from a hundred crashes that could have killed.

But his usually canny calculation of risk and danger failed the day he went up in a rickety hand-made plane for "Flight of the Phoenix." His partner, Frank Tallman, was scheduled to fly the Phoenix. But Tallman had broken his leg in a freak home accident—and would later lose the leg.

So Mantz, doubling for James Stewart, flew the plane in the 140-degree heat of Arizona's Buttercup Valley. Hanging onto a wing was stunt man Bobby Rose. Both were in their 60s and pushing their luck after a lifetime of danger.

Rose's luck held firm. Mantz was killed.

The life of Paul Mantz is chronicled in an arresting new book with the prosaic title of "Hollywood Pilot" Doubleday, $6.50. The author is Don Dwiggins, a flying aficionado and former aviation editor of the Los Angeles Mirror-News.

Dwiggins faced a challenging assignment in penetrating the exterior of Paul Mantz. Like many men who face danger on a day-to-day basis, Mantz shielded his feelings. He could seem aloof, but only because he did not allow himself to display any emotion. Yet there was no mistaking the inner turmoil.

Said writer Beirne Lay Jr.: "He (Mantz) is essentially a man of violent emotions. He has kept them for the most part under control. One of these emotions is a passionate urge toward excellence in anything he undertakes, matched with anger toward slovenly performance."

"He is a sad man, who paces in the small hours of the night, seeking the answer to the question men have asked since Socrates—why? He has a capacity for love, which he cannot express in spoken words, but which finds expression in his hand on the control of an honest airplane."

"He is a brave man."

A sunken ship becomes, in effect, an artificial reef that provides a haven for fish. Fishing experts experimentally are dumping old streetcars, automobiles and other bulky refuse into the ocean to provide more homes for marine life, thus better fishing.

SENATE RACE IN CALIFORNIA

LeMay Considering Politics Now

BY RALPH DIGHTON CHATSWORTH, Calif. (AP) — The not-so-happy warrior, retired from one theater of tumult but contemplating invasion of another, sat scowling and chewing a black cigar.

"What's so different about being a military man?" demanded Curtis Emerson LeMay.

"People say, 'Oh, but you have a different viewpoint' and their meaning is derogatory—except when there is a war going on. But there really is no difference, except maybe we love our country a little bit more, and work for less money."

The defense of his beloved life-long military profession came in an interview when LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff and four-star general who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the U.S. Senate, was asked if he felt his military background would help him in politics.

Snapped LeMay: "There is more integrity, less skulduggery and less thievery among military men than among all the rest of the citizens."

LeMay, a registered Republican, has never said he was interested in running for office, nor did he this time. But he has made several public speeches on military policy and has disclosed that he has been approached about opposing Sen.

Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., next year for the GOP nomination.

Kuchel recently was criticized by the conservative California Republican Assembly for failing to support Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., in their general election campaigns.

Both LeMay and the state school superintendent, Max Rafferty, have been suggested as possible opponents of Kuchel. But, says LeMay, "I'm having fun in what I'm doing and I'm not looking for another job. Until there's some real organization behind this sort of thing I will not give it any real thought."

LeMay, 61, retired two years ago into the post of chairman of the board of Networks Electronic Corp., a rambling one-story structure in a cluster of electronic plants in this San Fernando Valley suburb of Los Angeles.

His firm makes high-precision bearings and electronic parts for military equipment and he also has an interest in Executive Jet Aviation of Columbus, Ohio, a contract charter service which recently acquired two four-engine Boeing 707s and two smaller 727s.

He's obviously not in need of a job.

"I've had enough of 16-hour days," says LeMay. "Here I just kibitz and advise, and I like it that way."

As a business executive, however, LeMay has no forum and he is accustomed to sounding off whenever he feels national policy—especially military policy—is in error. As a senator, his views would have more effect.

Lander Boy Scouts Make 28-Mile Hike

Boy Scout Troop 26 held a three day campout last weekend, hiking 28 miles to the Reynolds Run area. Friday night Tommy Light received an award for help with a bake sale and Jim Lank passed his tenderfoot test.

On Saturday evening around a campfire gathering, awards were given to Jim Skinner, Sr. Patrol Leader badge; Jim Penley and Tom Light, patrol leader badge; Jim Lank and Terry Engstrom, assistant patrol leaders badge; Tim Engstrom, Terry Engstrom, Ricky Jenkins, Robert and David McLees, Bart Sanders, Gary Resh, Jim Skinner, Everett Enos all received their Totinchip cards.

The Lander Methodist Church sponsors the troop and presented the troop with 4 new tents and a cooking outfit which used for the first time. They will also attend the Conservation Camporee at Camp Olmsted on May 19, 20 and 21. Eighteen boys and their Scout Master Larry Larson enjoyed the weekend. Howard Van Orsdassant Scout Master was present.

The Annual meeting of the Foster Cemetery Association will be held at the Parish House, Tuesday evening, May 16, at 8 p.m. The Foster Cemetery Society will meet Thursday afternoon, May 18, at the home of Mrs. John Kerschner, Miller Hill rd.

A meeting of the officers of the Lander Alumnae Association was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Light. Present were Charles Miller, president; Mrs. Light, vice president; Betsy Firth, secretary and treasurer; and Donald Mills.

The annual meeting was planned for June 10 at the Parish house with tickets, $2.50. Gayle Meley will be toast master. Another meeting is planned for May 22 at the home of Mr. Miller in Russell.

Young Designers Face Obsolescence

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — This old city's young designers are showing signs of designing themselves off the fashion map.

They've earned millions for Britain's vital overseas trade, as well as a lot for themselves, but one authority on style is wondering if the teenage bubble is about to burst. He is editor of Savile Row's authoritative magazine, the Tailor and Cutter.

"Are teenage designers' ideas becoming stultified by the inbreeding which results from their feeding upon one another rather than upon the wider experiences offered by adaptation he asks.

"Designers at the teenage market level seem incapable of producing much which does not derive its impact from a simple nose-dumbing at convention."

Forest Lands Study Underway

The Allegheny Reservoir area is included in a study being made by the U. S. Forest Service for leasing privately owned land for outdoor recreation uses.

The study, a news release says, is being conducted throughout Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. It is aimed at helping private landowners make better use of their recreation resource potential.

In making the study, the Forest Service is asking all recreation lessees to provide information on their facilities. The information can be sent to the Forest Recreation Research Unit, Northeastern Forest Experiment Station, Syracuse, N. Y. 13210.

State's Revenue Office Backlogged

HARRISBURG (AP) — Warner M. Depuy, state secretary of revenue, told a legislative panel yesterday he has a housekeeping problem—a 30-year backlog of inheritance tax files.

Depuy said there are 550,000 files that must be updated. He requested that the department be authorized to hire at least six part-time tax examiners to tackle the job.

Two persons are now working on the mammoth backlog, Depuy said, and even if the additional workers are authorized it will take two years to complete the job.

Depuy appeared before a joint House - Senate appropriations committee to explain his department's proposed $1.8 million budget for the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The inheritance tax files, Depuy said, come to the department at the rate of about 40,000 a year. He added that because of a personnel shortage the department can examine only about 20,000 of the files.

In other testimony, Depuy said the department has drafted a plan to establish at least 50 St. John's Plans

Scout Troop For Pleasant

The possibility of setting up a Boy Scout troop in Pleasant Township will be discussed at St. John's Lutheran Church at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be open to all interested boys and parents from Pleasant Township. District scout executive John Kloos will be present to how a troop could be set up, and to ask for parents' support and participation.

The church council of St. John's voted at its May meeting to sponsor a scout troop as part of a youth ministry in Pleasant Township. The Rev. James M. McCormick announced that H. Duane Baker has agreed to serve as scoutmaster, and Bruce Stevens as assistant scoutmaster.

The Rev. Mr. McCormick said the troop would be open to all boys within the appropriate age group, regardless of what church they belong to.

He said the main intent of the church's sponsorship is to "provide a healthful and character-building program" in Pleasant Township and on the south side.

regional offices to distribute license plates to Pennsylvania motorists.

He added that the plan would be submitted to Gov. Shafer by June 1.

License plates are now distributed only by the department's Motor Vehicle Bureau in Harrisburg.

Edwin S. Hineman, executive secretary, explained later that the department's proposed decentralization plan would establish an office in each of the state's 50 senatorial districts.

He said that instead of the present annual license renewal system, plates would be distributed for passenger vehicles five times a year, under a staggered renewal system, and once a year for commercial vehicles.

The renewal periods, he added, would be determined probably by a system based on the manufacturers' serial number on vehicles. For example, all cars having a serial number that ends in the same digit would have their plates renewed the same month.

Hineman said the target date for starting the program is February, 1970. However, he added that a pilot study would be undertaken probably during the next 12 months.

Officials of the Department of Labor and Industry were scheduled to testify before the panel later in the day.

Russell WCTU Meet Held

WCTU met Tuesday afternoon, May 9th in Russell Methodist Church with Mrs. Hugh Atkins presiding. Mrs. J. M. Burford led devotions on "Conserving the Christian Home" with Prayer by Rowena Spencer.

Mrs. Arden Pangborn, director for White Ribbon Recruits, conducted a ribbon-tying service. She told a story for the children and gave illustrated statistics, and the effects of alcohol on family life. She tied white ribbons on Jonathan Phillips, Gregory Spade, David Cathcart, Jeffrey Gray, and Ross Elberg. Their mothers received leaflets and pledge cards.

(Excerpt from Youngsville Courier, 1936)

Around the County WITH GURNEY BALL

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Last Saturday evening Eldred Township Republicans headed by their committeeman Darrell Lay held a Weiner Roast at his farm near Sanford. It was by far the largest gathering ever seen in that section at a political rally. The crowd estimated about 700 County Chairman Jesse Smith opened the meeting. Allison Wade young Republican chairman gave a fine talk, with Joe Goldstein giving the principal talk of the evening, which was enjoyed by all, especially the Old Time Democrats who are not in favor of the New Deal principals.

A large number from Eldred and Spring Creek Townships are planning on going to West Middlesex on Aug. 22 to hear Governor Landon open his Eastern campaign.

If other committeemen would get out and work like Mr Lay did in putting over this Weiner Roast between now and fall, it will surely mean a lot to all of us.

I hear that Freehold Township would like a Weiner Roast soon.

A couple of our young men would liked to have stayed until morning at the Weiner roast. We wonder why?

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Harry Brinkley who passed away one year ago.

God took him home—it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still.
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit & think of him
And we are all alone.
For memory is the only friend,
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by wife, mother, sister & brother.
